Soviets Report Unmanned Spacecraft Circles Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian probe Zond 5 has flown around the moon, carried out "its program of research in outer space" and continues its flight, the Soviet Union announced Friday.

A Tass dispatch on operations of the unmanned vehicle incidentally confirmed a news scoop by British scientists Wednesday about its lunar course.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Space Observatory, had disclosed, in a report denounced by the Soviet Foreign Ministry's press department at the time as "a canard," that Zond 5 passed within 1,000 miles or so of the moon that day.

Giving the first official Soviet word about the probe since it was launched last Sunday, Tass said it corrected its trajectory Tuesday "to study the physical characteristics of outer space in the area of the moon" and circled the moon the next day at a range as close as 1,950 kilometers—1,212 miles.

Though the news agency said the flight continues, it did not specify the location of Zond 5.

Tass reported the launching of another sputnik, Cosmos 242, with scientific equipment for "further studies of outer space." Cosmos 242 was reported circling the earth at distances ranging from about 174 to 273 miles. But Zond 5 was the Russians' big space story of the day.

Lovell has expressed belief at Jodrell Bank that the probe was returning to earth and that the Russians would try to recover it. Such a feat would be a big step toward sending a man to the moon and bringing him back. The earth-moon trip of space devices normally takes 3½ days.

In reporting the spaceship "flew around the moon," Tass did not specify whether this meant it flew past on a curving trajectory, went into continuous orbit around the moon, or made one or more orbits and then blasted off in a new direction.

The Russians ordinarily blanket aims of their space work in secrecy until objectives are accomplished.

Tass said, however: "A stable radio communication is maintained with the station and equipment on board the station relays scientific information to the ground. . . . The coordination computing center continues processing incoming information."

A spokesman of the Foreign Ministry's press department declined to say whether the denial Wednesday had been meant to cover only Lovell's statement that Zond 5 might be returning to earth, rather than that it passed near the moon.

"You have a Tass announcement," he told an inquirer. "Be guided by it."

Tass made no mention of a Jodrell Bank report that a tape recording of a Russian-speaking voice was picked up from the spaceship. The British observatory said this might have been a communications test.

The last previous shot in the Zond series, Zond 4, was launched last March. There has been no follow-up Soviet announcement on its fate.

Hippies Leave

For Parts Unknown

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A group that dressed like hippies but called themselves a religious colony have left for part unknown.

The 34 bearded men and barefoot women agreed two weeks ago to abandon their farm camp near Harmonsburg by Friday and get out of Crawford County.

In return, Dist. Atty. Paul D. Shafer Jr. dropped charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors and operating a disorderly house that had been filed against them.

Kremlin Gives Balkans No Nonsense Warning

The Balkans often have been a kettle for brewing big trouble for the world. Will Moscow's current anger place the area again in that role? Observers in Europe with a sense of history do not rule it out.

A new blast from Pravda has the tone of a no-nonsense warning. The paper of the Soviet Communist leadership served notice that nobody within the Soviet orbit is permitted to contemplate or abet any "softening" of Communist party rule.

It shook an admonitory finger toward Yugoslavia.

Such articles are carefully reviewed by the party before publication. This one was broadcast abroad, suggesting that one aim was to serve notice that Moscow will tolerate no more Czechoslovakians.

The article harshly scolded Yugoslavia, as if to stress that the Kremlin's patience has limits. Yugoslavia right now is out

2,000 Marines Make First DMZ Invasion; Fighting Sporadic

SAIGON (AP) — About 2,000 U.S. Marines invaded the southern half of the Demilitarized Zone last Monday in a bold move to block an expected thrust by the North Vietnamese army, the U.S. Command disclosed Saturday.

Elements of the 4th and 9th regiments penetrated with helicopters into the tangled jungle and high ridges of the central zone to tear up the enemy's infiltration system, a Marine spokesman said.

The Leathernecks reported sporadic fighting through the first six days of the operation. About 100 enemy soldiers were reported slain.

No casualty figures were given by the U.S. Command, which had delayed announcing the operation until Saturday on grounds of military security.

It is the first time that an allied force has entered the central area of the once-neutral buffer zone between the warring parts of Vietnam.

U.S. and South Vietnamese units have made half a dozen major probes of the zone along the eastern coastal flank, however, in the past 16 months.

The Marines were reported making their sweeps near the headwaters of the Ben Hai River, 20 miles inland and north of the rugged peak called The Rockpile.

A Marine spokesman said the purpose of the operation is to disrupt a newly discovered network of enemy "speed trails." He described speed trails as cleared paths fitted with steps and handrails at difficult spots.

This system of trails is so effective, the spokesman added, that North Vietnamese soldiers could move from the Ben Hai River to hit a Marine outpost in The Rockpile area seven miles south in about six hours.

The Marine move followed by only three days a 14-hour raid into the southern portion of the zone near the South China Sea coast by American and Vietnamese infantrymen and Marines. In that raid, also designed to throw off balance any enemy offensive across the zone, the allied units reported killing 158 North Vietnamese soldiers while suffering only four killed and 24 wounded. In that operation, the government infantrymen and U.S. Army armored units and Marines pulled back out of the zone at nightfall.

Boy's Kidnapers Arrested by FBI

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — The kidnaped 7-year-old grandson of a millionaire hosiery magnate came home to an impromptu party Friday hours after he was recovered, unharmed and unransomed, by FBI agents.

Hillard Willis Marks, who celebrated his seventh birthday Thursday in the hands of the kidnapers, was seized Wednesday as he got off a school bus.

The kidnapers had demanded $125,000 ransom from his father, William E. Marks, owner of a Chicago manufacturing firm. Federal agents said the ransom was not paid.

Arrested and charged with aggravated kidnaping were Daniel C. Pieler, 30, unemployed Chicagoan; Robert S. Marin, 24, a machinist, who lives on Chicago's South Side, and his wife, Ethel Marie, 26.

Pieler and the Marks were acquaintances.

The three were held without bond after a brief appearance in Circuit Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks first held a joyful reunion with their son in the Chicago office of the FBI, where the youngster described his delivery as "wonderful."

Later, on the patio of the Marks home, Hillard was reunited—along with a large birthday cake—with his mother, father, sister, Judy, 15, and brother, Barry, 4. Also present were Hillard's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Marks, of Wilmette, a Chicago suburb, the boys' aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Don Keith, of Elk Grove Village, another suburb, and their three young children, David, Douglas and Deborah.

Also on hand was Charley, a crow that hangs around the yard and is a special friend of Hillard's.

At the impromptu party, Marks told newsmen:

"I would like to thank each and every one of you personally for holding up information on the case until Hillard was recovered by the FBI. I don't believe a voluntary embargo like this ever has been effective before."

The kidnaping was known in newsrooms in the Chicago area since Wednesday night. But news was withheld at the request of the parents.

Enemy Troops Assault Allied Outposts and Armored Column

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made fresh assaults against allied outposts and an armored column securing the northwestern invasion route to Saigon Friday but they were thrown back with the loss of 91 men killed.

Allied casualties in three fights against an estimated 1,200 North Vietnamese were reported as 10 killed and 36 wounded.

The battles came on the heels of reports of dogfights in the skies over North Vietnam and continued B52 saturation bombings of troop concentrations and highways just north of the demilitarized zone and near the coast at the border between the two Vietnams.

A Navy pilot, Lt. Anthony Nargi, 28, of Clifton, N.J., shot down a MIG near Vinh farther up the coast Thursday and the U.S. Command reported the loss of an F105 Thunderchief elsewhere over the North Vietnamese panhandle to groundfire.

The MIG was the 110th shot down in the war. The United States has lost 48 planes in dogfights. The loss of the F105 was the 897th warplane lost in the North.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency claimed four U.S. planes were shot down over the North Thursday.

The North Vietnamese ground attacks 55 miles northwest of Saigon were centered again around Tay Ninh. The strikes were aimed at border posts manned by South Vietnamese militiamen and a U.S. 25th Infantry Division field position and road-clearing detail.

About 500 North Vietnamese, using flame throwers, mortars and antitank rockets, hit the South Vietnamese outpost late Thursday night and continued their attack into Friday morning.

The enemy destroyed 90 per cent of the militiamen's barbed wire and sandbag outpost, but the defenders held out until two companies of reinforcements moved in by helicopter.

When the fight ended at noon, the militiamen counted 30 enemy bodies—19 of them inside the fort. The government lost 9 men killed and 28 wounded.

The 25th Division soldiers accounted for 61 additional enemy slain.

Thirty-seven were killed when they attacked the night perimeter of a company in the Ben Chu rubber plantation east of Tay Ninh.

Filipino Students Protest State Dept. Statement

MANILA (AP) — Filipino students demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy Friday night, protesting a statement by a State Department spokesman that the United States recognizes Sabah as part of Malaysia.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos summoned U.S. Ambassador G. Mennen Williams to clarify the American stand.

Marcos signed a bill Wednesday amending the Malaysian state in North Borneo on the ground that it actually was Philippines territory until the sultan of Sulu ceded part of it to the British in 1878.

Britain has supported Malaysia in rejecting the Philippines claim to the territory, which became part of the Malaysian federation when it was formed of former British colonies in 1963, was a U.S. possession until after World War II.

The demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy by about 100 students was orderly. The demonstrators handed out handbills assailing "gratuitous remarks" and "agents provocateurs in the State Department."

A statement from the presidential palace in Manila said President Marcos had called Williams to a meeting with him Saturday afternoon for a "formal verification and clarification" of the statement in Washington Thursday by Robert J. McCloskey, State Department spokesman, that the United States considers Sabah to be Malaysian.

The U.S. Embassy said McCloskey was merely restating the American position taken when Malaysia was formed.

"With respect to the claim of the Philippines on Sabah, the United States traditionally takes no position on territorial disputes such as this one."

But Philippines sources said the statement could be harmful to U.S.-Filipino relations.

A palace informant said Marcos was "deeply hurt" by the State Department position.

"It cut us adrift," the source said. "We are not only sentimental, but much of our military strength is dependent on the United States and now, with Britain siding with Malaysia, America has forgotten us."

15,000 Men Just Couldn't Be Wrong

NEW YORK (AP) — An estimated 15,000 men jammed the narrow streets of the financial district during the lunch hour Friday, hoping for a glimpse of the super shapely brunette whose stroll to work Thursday drew a traffic-jamming crowd of 5,000.

But Francine Gottfried wasn't there.

"We gave her today off," said a spokesman for the Chemical Bank of New York Trust Co. where the 21-year-old Brooklyn lass is employed as an IBM machine operator.

Francine, who's 5-foot-4 and measures 43-25-37, had been drawing daily growing crowds for the past couple of weeks as she emerged from a subway stop at about 1:30 p.m. and walked the few blocks to her job.

Pilot in Fair Condition Following Crash

FRANKLIN -- The pilot of a mail plane which crashed shortly after taking off from Franklin's Chess Lambert Airport late Wednesday night was listed in fair condition Thursday night at a Pittsburgh hospital.

The pilot, Lawrence McDermott, 52, of West Mifflin, was found nearly nine hours after his twin-engine Beechcraft went down carrying 2,000 pounds of first class mail.

The crash occurred about 200 yards off Route 62, a short distance from the end of the airport runway.

McDermott was found by Robert Smith, a Franklin postal worker.

Smith said he heard a radio broadcast early Thursday concerning the mail plane which had been missing from Franklin airport. He said he thought the plane's engines had quit when he heard it take off late Wednesday night.

Setting out on his own personal search, Smith located the pilot in about 15 minutes. He said McDermott was conscious and had been able to crawl about 100 yards to take shelter under a tree during a rainstorm in the night.

ASCS Head Lists Program Changes

Charles Camp, chairman Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, this week announces an important change for the 1969 feed grain program, making barley one of the three feed grains to be included in the U.S. Department of Agriculture program next year.

Camp says this means that barley, as well as corn and grain sorghum, will be included in a farm's feed grain base acreage, if the farm had barley production history in 1959 or 1960. Any acreage devoted to barley in 1969 will be charged against permitted acreage for the farm, in determining participation in the program.

Minimum diversion in order to qualify for benefits of the 1969 feed grain program has not been determined, but will be announced when the program is formulated.

Camp reports the change also means a grower participating in both programs, who wants to substitute between wheat and any of these three feed grains—corn, grain sorghum and barley—may do so within the limit of the farm's total permitted acreage for all of these crops. This eliminates any need for requesting a special barley base be approved for a farm, if the grower wishes to substitute wheat for barley.

Camp says the decision to include barley in the 1969 feed grain program reflects the sharply changed barley supply situation. Unusually favorable weather in major production areas has boosted estimated national average barley yield to a new all-time record of 42.5 bushels per acre, making total production nearly 15 per cent above last year's output. The 1969 program change is made to bring next year's production into line with needs.

State Highway Deaths Reached 204 in August

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania highway accidents claimed at least 204 lives during August, according to preliminary figures released Friday by the Bureau of Traffic Safety.

The preliminary count for last month was the same as the final toll for August 1967 after reports of delayed deaths were received by the bureau.

The bureau said it had reports of 1,438 traffic deaths in the state for the first eight months of this year, 14 less than the figure for the corresponding period of 1967.

Harry H. Brainerd, commissioner of traffic safety, said 57 persons died last month in multiple crashes, including one accident that took five lives and another that claimed four.

3,000 Students Battle 1,000 Riot Policemen

MEXICO CITY (AP) — About 3,000 students, some hurling rocks and firebombs, battled with 1,000 riot policemen outside a polytechnic school Friday in a new outburst of the violence harassing Mexico City as it prepares for the opening of the Olympic Games Oct. 11.

There was some gunfire and the police used tear gas in attempting to bring the crowd under control. One police truck was set on fire, and several persons were reported injured. Hundreds of students were holed up in buildings of the Zateco school in the northern sector of the city.

The outburst came after gunmen speeding by in two cars sprayed the College of Mexico with machine-gun bullets in the darkness before dawn Friday. The students at the polytechnic school hurled fire bombs at the riot police trucks and at least one officer was critically injured.

At the Saint Tomas polytechnic school, police moved in, took several students prisoner and occupied the building.

At Monterrey, in northern Mexico, students commandeered seven buses.

In Cuernavaca, west of the capital, a crackdown brought eight arrests. Secret police in Mexico City were reported quietly rounding up Communist sympathizers.

Officials reported the college, a small institution in downtown Mexico City, was unoccupied at the time and there were no casualties, but they reported $25,000 worth of damage to the building's walls, windows and furniture. One bullet tore a hole in the rector's office chair.

The attack came at 3 a.m., following a night of hit-run clashes between striking students of the University of Mexico and other schools and riot police. The students were protesting occupation by the army of the University of Mexico, near Olympic Stadium and Olympic Village.

The university remained under control of the army. It had been occupied by striking students since late July until the army took over its suburban campus Wednesday night. Also under control of the army was Olympic Stadium, across Avenida Insurgentes from the campus and on the main route between downtown and Olympic Village.

The Interior Ministry said the army had been ordered onto the campus for the first time in 40 years because the students had refused to heed the rector's call to return to classes and examinations. Students since July 29 have been protesting army occupation of various preparatory schools in the wake of rioting.

Dr. James Rock, Warren Native, Named Chairman

Dr. James A. Rock, a native of Warren has been named chairman of the 40-member Advisory Committee of the Western Pennsylvania Regional Medical Program (WP-RMP). He now lives in Johnstown, Pa.

Dr. Rock was graduated from Warren High School in 1948. The doctor and his wife, Margaret, have three children.

Dr. Rock has served as vice chairman of the WP-RMP since 1967 and is also a member of the Western Pennsylvania Comprehensive Health Planning Group.

A practicing pathologist in Johnstown, he is chief of staff at Lee Hospital and director of clinical laboratories at Lee and the neighboring Windber, Pa., hospital. A University of Pittsburgh graduate, he received his B.S. degree in 1952 and his M.D. degree in 1956. Academic honors included Omicron Delta Kappa Honors Fraternity and the Andrew B. Mellon scholarship.

Dr. Rock interned at St. Francis Hospital and served his pathology residency at the University of Pittsburgh Health Center. After serving in the United States Navy from 1959 to 1961, he was a senior training grant fellow in pathology and instructor of pathology at Pittsburgh.

The doctor is now board certified in anatomical and clinical pathology. He is a member of many professional societies, including the Cambria County Medical Society, American Medical Association and the Association of Clinical Scientists. He has published a number of scientific papers.

Humphrey Taunts Nixon On TV Debate Issue

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, seeking to taunt Republican Richard M. Nixon into a series of television debates, said Friday the GOP presidential candidate's "firm positions make an ad for Jello look like concrete."

Speaking from the steps of Abraham Lincoln's onetime home before a crowd of several thousand — far bigger than many he has seen in his campaign — Humphrey challenged Nixon to join him in a series of discussions "in the tradition of the Lincoln-Douglas debates."

Time and again, the Democratic candidate departed from his text to hammer away at his theme that Nixon is straddling major issues.

But when his enthusiastic audience lustily booed his first mention of Nixon's name, the vice president raised his arms for silence and said, "No, no, I don't ever want a Humphrey supporter to boo anybody."

This was one of several oblique references Humphrey made to rough heckling he and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy got in Boston Thursday from antiwar activists.

As he did Thursday night in Sioux Falls, S.D., Humphrey once again pictured himself as an ardent exponent of peace in Vietnam — but without departing from the stated policies of the Johnson administration.

However, he hinted that such a departure might develop. After saying that "we must be emancipated," he declared that this would include emancipation from "policies of the past if they are wrong."

Humphrey pictured Nixon as straddling so many issues that "he is having his own debate."

He said he favored formal debates — even to include third party candidate George C. Wallace — so voters can judge the candidates "on the basis of facts — not empty promises, slogans and that special brand of fence straddling which Mr. Nixon perfected at least a generation ago."

Wallace Blasts Supreme Court, Republican Party

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Making his final Florida campaign swing, George Wallace told a cheering crowd of 10,000 Friday that, if elected, he will seek a constitutional amendment requiring Senate confirmation of Supreme Court justices every six or eight years.

Doffing his coat under a hot sun, Wallace rolled up his sleeves and delivered one of the hardest-hitting speeches since launching his third party drive for the presidency.

He was to speak later in the day at Daytona Beach and Orlando.

He blasted the Supreme Court, Republican party, GOP candidate Richard Nixon and what he called "groups of anarchists who violate law and order in America."

"One thing I am going to ask Congress to submit to the states is a constitutional amendment that judges, after they've served six or eight years, have to be reconfirmed by the Senate of the United States," said the former Alabama governor.

It was the first time Wallace had offered such a proposal during his campaign. In 1964, he mentioned a similar plan in an interview.

A crowd of 10,000 filled the stands and rimmed the sidelines of a football field at the State Fairgrounds in Tallahassee to hear Wallace. They cheered frequently, and one group of youths held up a Confederate flag.

"Without any judicial restraint they've (Supreme Court) taken over our lives. And I want to tell you what. This sorry outfit ought to be put in its place and when I become president the Supreme Court will be put in its place," Wallace said.

Hitting Republicans and Democrats alike, he said that previously both parties "called us crackers, rednecks, peckerwoods, pea pickers, they wouldn't spit on an Alabamian."

"Except now we represent a majority opinion in the country. Now they're for us."

"These rednecks in Florida. We've got lots of rednecks if you mean people who don't mind getting their necks reddened by an honest day's work in the sun," he told the cheering crowd.

Wallace said he would make a "solemn covenant" to Floridians, promising them that "I am going to, within the law, turn back to the people of Tallahassee and Florida the absolute control of your public school system."

He said such control had been taken away by the Supreme Court and criticized Abe Fortas, whose appointment as chief justice is now being reviewed by the Senate.

"Mr. Fortas and them said you can send obscene literature through the mails and see obscene movies, but you'd better not bow your head in a public school and say a prayer," Wallace charged.

Police Probe Burglary At Library

Borough police are investigating a burglary at Warren Public Library which occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Wednesday and 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Taken from a box in the workroom near the children's section at the library was $60 in cash and a check for $10 from Warren Players Club.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, of 105 Tuscarora ave., Warren, a library employee, told police she saw two fellows who were strangers to her come as she was putting the money away.

When Mrs. Johnson asked if she could help them, the pair started toward the front door. She was unable to state if they left the premises but thought they could have hidden upstairs in front.

Police said they believed exit was made through a door on the north side of the building since the front door can be opened only with a key.

To Install Officers

Warren County 8-40 Salon 405 will install officers at the meeting in the American Legion Home next Wednesday. There will be a tureen dinner at 6:30 p.m., with meat and dessert furnished.

Mrs. Jeanne Donahue Sr., Philadelphia departmental chaplain, will be guest speaker and installing officer. All officers have been requested to wear white.

Plans Set for Annual Sheffield Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival

By FRANKLIN HOFF

Sheffield is all set for the second annual Sheffield Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival, next Friday and Saturday, September 27 and 28. With experience gained in launching their first Johnny Appleseed Festival in the fall of 1967, Sheffield leaders have worked without interruption during the entire past year to insure this year would be both bigger and better.

The woodmen's carnival program is a newsworthy event in itself. There is wide interest in such events throughout the continent, because they are exciting. The Johnny Appleseed legend, with its magic of true American folklore, which belongs to Warren County as the site of John Chapman's first apple tree nursery established on the Brokenstraw in 1797, commands wide attention and interest.

Newspapers, sportsmen's journals and other media throughout the East have given this year's Johnny Appleseed Festival wide publicity. This week it was discussed in Friday's Harrisburg syndicated news column by Mason Denison, and was given a front page story in the September issue of the Travel Bulletin published by the Department of Commerce of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

There is great excitement in the keen competition of local and world champion contenders in buck saw, crosscut saw and chain saw contests, horse pulling and other historic timber country activities.

Program chairman Eugene Leseman emphasizes that although an impressive group of celebrities among champion lumberjacks draws great crowds, equally important are contests on the program limited to local area people, within 100 miles of Sheffield.

One of the most talked about events last year was the series of contests for young people. Both boys and girls participated. Many groups of boys, including 20 Sheffield lads, have been practicing and taking safety instruction for the youth crosscut and bucksaw contests at the coming festival. They have been given instruction by Harry Jefferson and Charles Rice. All are out to better their records set last year.

Many local chainsaw operators from the area are entering the light, middle and heavy-weight chainsaw events.

Worthwhile cash prizes are a noteworthy feature of all contests.

Eugene Leseman does not yet have a complete list of regional and national celebrities who are registered for this year's contests, but a partial list includes: From Pennsylvania, Ed Kocjancic, Rucy Kocjancic, Joe Kocjancic and John Kocjancic, all nationally famed contenders, as well as Jack Buehler, John Buehler and Ed Buehler.

West Virginia lumberjacks include Arlan Cougar, Bennie Cougar and Gene Cougar.

From Ohio Jim Hawkins. From Maine Bob Hoffman.

A group of Erie County contestants are coming.

Sheffield is represented by Bob McMillen and others.

There are groups scheduled to attend from Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, probably from Washington State.

From Connecticut come headliners again this year, World Champion Lumberjack Dave Geer, World Champion Sven Johnson and Gib Engle.

As champions who came to Sheffield for the first Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival last year participated in major lumberjack events throughout the United States, Canada and Australia during the year, they spread the word about the Sheffield event in glowing terms. They emphasized the hospitality of the local people, as well as the fact that this great nonprofit event is a community project, and the prize money is big.

One of the most popular features of last year's pioneer Johnny Appleseed Festival will be repeated this year. This is a series of guided tours on both days through the McMillen Lumber Company's modern sawmill and dimension stock mill.

The Sheffield Community is successfully establishing the Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival as an annual event have not only developed a leading Warren County tourist attraction, but a widely acclaimed event for the entire state and Northeastern United States.

Hayes Commissioned 2nd Lt. in Air Force

LT. ROBERT J. HAYES

Robert J. Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Mason, 7 E. St. Clair st., Warren, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force in a recent ceremony at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Hayes, a 1959 Warren High School, joined the air force in 1962 and was stationed at March AFB, Calif. Through attending evening classes during duty hours, Hayes earned the strategic air command, educational achievement award, distinguished educational achievement certificate and finally the SAC outstanding educational achievement award for earning over 90 credit hours of off duty education prior to January of 1968.

During this period Hayes also completed temporary duty assignments in the Far East, including five months in South Vietnam, and received an associate in arts degree in business from Riverside City College, Riverside, Calif.

In July of 1966 Hayes was notified he had been selected for the Airmans Education and Commissioning Program, resulting in a two year scholarship to the University of Southern California to study motion picture producing, directing and technical training in all phases of the cinema.

In September Hayes began his studies at USC with full pay and allowances of a staff sergeant with all tuition and books paid by the Air Force Institute of Technology.

For his outstanding contribution to the Dept. of Cinema at USC, Hayes was nominated and accepted into Delta Kappa Alpha, the National Honorary Cinema fraternity. Members of this fraternity include Lucille Ball, Gregory, Mary Pickford and the late Cecil B. DeMille.

In January 1968 Hayes received a BA degree in Cinema, graduating a semester early from USC due to his ability to take more than the normal load of studies. From there he went directly into officers training at Lackland.

SIDEWALK DAYS BATTLE OF THE BANDS

This group should do all right during Sidewalk Days next Friday and Saturday. Of course, if it rains, some one might get electrocuted. This electronically amplified organization is known as "The Area Code." The coders will play next Friday night in the "Battle of the Bands." Left to right, they are Dean Wilson, Bob Mahan, John Stachowiak, Skip Boyer and Gary Scallise. At least three units, including the "London Docks," are expected to take part in the "battle."

WORLD CHAMPION LUMBERJACK

Dave Geer, of Jewett City, Conn., is pictured making his third cut in a recent world championship match at Hayward, Wisconsin, which was televised nationally. Geer will again be a leading attraction at Sheffield's second annual Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival next Friday and Saturday, September 27 and 28.

'Little Hoover Commission' Has Yet To Make Proposal

HARRISBURG (AP) — It was Oct. 11, 1967, that Gov. Shafer announced he was forming a 17-man "Little Hoover Commission" to recommend stronger methods for government to economy.

Eleven months later, the committee, formally entitled "The Governor's Commission for Modern State Government" has yet to make any concrete proposals for financial reforms.

And Joseph McHugh, who left his post as chief aide in the state Budget Office to become the commission's executive director at $24,000 annually, said it was unlikely any recommendations would be in hand before January.

Part of the commission's problem did not receive an appropriation of $75,000 in operating funds from the General Assembly until March, five months after its creation.

In addition, McHugh and an administrative assistant who earns $7,000 annually are the only paid staff personnel available on a full-time basis.

Shafer handed the committee a large assignment when he announced its formation.

"I have no doubt that their investigations into the operations of our government will uncover many ways for us to economize, saving taxpayers' money, while improving state services of all kinds," he said.

"In broad terms," he told the committee members themselves at a luncheon in the Governor's Reception Room, "the assignment is this:

"Help my administration economize, streamline and modernize so the people of Pennsylvania get every penny's worth out of every tax dollar that goes into making government work."

According to McHugh, the commission's effort thus far has been primarily to break down into four separate task forces: personnel management, procurement, capital expenditures and public works.

"These task forces are holding meetings with persons in state government with a view toward what is being done and how it's being done," he said.

"They're trying to determine areas for further study."

McHugh estimated the $75,000 would keep the commission functioning for another six-to-eight months.

He concluded by saying: "We're not going to make one big report. As we find areas that need improvement, we will recommend that the improvement be made and then go on to something else."

Teenage Unwed Mother, Daughter Murdered

BRADFORD — A teenage unwed mother and her infant daughter were killed Thursday evening in their home here. District Attorney William F. Potter called it a "double homicide."

The child's alleged father will be charged with murder, police said.

Found stabbed and beaten to death in the living room of her home at 63 Onofrius st., was Miss Stephany Ann Spack, 15.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Bradford Hospital was her infant daughter, Jovann Elizabeth Spack, two months old.

McKean County Coroner Gale Hollenbeck said early Friday that autopsies revealed Miss Spack died of massive internal hemorrhage caused by an apparent stab wound in the lower left side of the abdomen and also suffered a massive brain hemorrhage caused by a heavy blow on the head.

The baby, he said, died of suffocation and added he believed it had been done with a pillow.

Gordon H. Foley, county detective, said early Friday morning that Edward Frederick, 19, of Rixford, confessed to the killings.

Foley said Frederick, who will be charged with murder, said he struck Stephany over the head with a baseball bat and then stabbed her in the abdomen with a splintered piece of the bat.

Frederick denied having anything to do with the death of the girl's two month old daughter. He said the baby was crying in the crib when he left the house.

District Attorney Potter revealed that the mother and child were discovered by their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Luwanna Spack, 48, when she returned from work.

Mrs. Spack, a widow, left the house at 4:20 p.m. Thursday to go to a home and do housework, leaving her daughter at home with the baby and Edward Frederick who was visiting.

Meet Scheduled

The Women's Federated Democratic Club will meet in the AF of L Union Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Miss Frances Fago, secretary, announced plans for the meeting.

State Horse Racing Panel Ends First Round Hearings

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission concluded the first round of hearings Friday on applications for thoroughbred track licenses.

The three-member commission heard the formal presentation of Montco Raceway, Inc., Philadelphia, seeking a license to conduct thoroughbred racing in Luzerne County.

Marvin Comisky, secretary and legal counsel for Montco, said his group expected to lease Pocono Downs harness track pending construction of a thoroughbred track.

Comisky said Montco eventually hoped to hold 100 days of summer racing and noted that its meeting probably would overlap the 62-night harness meeting at Pocono Downs.

John Cronin, Montco general manager, said in response to questions from the commission that he did not believe either track would suffer much from the competition.

The commission on Thursday heard presentations from five other license applications, including Shamrock Racing Association, Inc., Wilkes-Barre, which also wants to race at Pocono Downs.

Shamrock officials said they had no plans to build a track of their own, but were ready to spend $1.7 million in renovating Pocono Downs.

The commission noted that Shamrock already had begun negotiating a lease with Pocono Downs and asked why Montco had not done the same.

"We felt that if we were the successful licensee, we could sit down with Pocono Downs and negotiate a lease from a position of strength," Comisky said.

He told the commission Pocono Downs was making unreasonable demands, such as a 30-year contract calling for a rental of 1.5 per cent of the handle.

In its application, Montco said it could build a track on a 380-acre site in Bear Creek Township as soon as it could arrange for the financing and other details.

Thoroughbred racing was legalized in Pennsylvania under an act signed by Gov. Shafer last December. The commission is authorized under the act to award four licenses.

Roy Wilkinson Jr., commission chairman, announced that the next hearings would be held Oct. 3 and 4 to review the applications of six applicants from the Philadelphia area. The area: — Man O' War Racing Association, Inc., Philadelphia, which wants to lease the existing Liberty Bell Park, currently used by two harness racing associations.

— Eagle Downs Race Track, Inc., Paoli, proposing to build a track in Upper Uchlan Township, Chester County.

— Continental Racing Association and Bensalem Thoroughbred Racing Association, both of Philadelphia, which say they would build one track in Bensalem Township, Bucks County, and conduct two separate 100-day meets there.

— Delaware Valley Thoroughbred Racing Association, Inc., Philadelphia, which says it is prepared to build a track at Newtown Square, Delaware County.

— Valley Forge Racing Association, Inc., West Chester, proposing a track three miles east of Paoli with plans to race at Liberty Bell pending construction of the new facility.

United Fund Campaign Names Division Chairmen

The Warren area residential solicitation and the Warren "county" campaign on behalf of the 1968 United Fund appeal for $177,050 will be headed by Richard E. Huber and Bernard L. Wingert, according to C. L. Christensen, general chairman.

Huber will be serving his second term as chairman of the residential division which covers the borough as well as the townships of Conewango, Glade, Mead and Pleasant.

Wingert succeeds Ken Porter as chairman of the county division which solicits every area of Warren County except that covered by Huber's division.

The two divisions have been assigned a quota of $12,750 which is 7.3 per cent of the total goal this fall.

Both Huber and Wingert are currently enrolling hundreds of volunteers in preparation for the kick off meeting on Tuesday, October 8.

This meeting is the last of a series of kick-offs which began two weeks ago. The culmination of the campaign comes in late October when UF leaders hope to announce that the goal has gone "over the top".

Christensen reminded the community that the United Fund drive has been successful in four out of five previous campaigns. "But," he said, "to make this a victory, we must realize an average increase in gifts and pledges of 7 per cent."

"If any one division falls short of its quota," he said, "then the entire drive will suffer and agencies will not receive their full allotment."

The chairman also stated that the United Fund does not have any reserve funds; the entire budget is expended each year to take care of the needs of participating agencies.

Dr. Kimball Erdman, Professor of Biology at Slippery Rock College will present the "Wild Lands of Europe" at Western Pennsylvania Conservancy's Wildflower Reserve at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 27. The public is invited to attend this unusual illustrated lecture, the sixth in the 1968 series of nature education programs. The Wildflower Reserve is located 25 miles from Pittsburgh on Route 30 west.

A Smethport man, Michael E. Smith, 20, is in Port Allegany Community Hospital with lacerations and contusions received at 2:30 a. m. Thursday when his car went out of control on Route 6 near Smethport and overturned in a ditch. Kane-based state police said Smith was traveling alone and is not believed seriously injured. Damage to the car was listed at $500.

Finds Trading Bonanza In Occupied Czechoslovakia

(C) N.Y. Times News Service PRAGUE — A Dutch businessman who drives a 1968 Cougar and wears a University of Texas ring has found a bonanza in trading western products in occupied Czechoslovakia.

Catharinus J. Vos, who runs the Johannes Vos Group of Amsterdam, said in an interview that he was "surprised that business is so fantastic."

Within two weeks of the invasion he signed an agreement with Koosloot, one of the state purchasing agencies, for one million tulip bulbs worth about $15,000. The bulbs, which will arrive on Oct. 1, are to be planted in Prague parks.

Shortly afterward he sold quantities of Peter Stuyvesant Cigarettes, Droste Coco and Pickwick Tea to a food store in Ostrava and signed an important contract to supply sweaters and socks made by Jansen De Wit in Holland to the Tuzex chain of department stores and shops.

Tuzex stores sell a variety of western goods but their customers have to use hard (western) currencies to make their purchases.

Vos said the Czechoslovaks were always noted for their prompt payment. For consumer products of this type payments are generally made in hard currencies within a month of delivery. In larger industrial contracts with western companies, the Czechoslovaks generally request three to five year credit terms as do other eastern Europeans.

The stocky, sandy-haired trader who runs an import and export sales business from offices in Amsterdam and Prague has been engaged in East-West trade for seven years.

He inherited the business from his father, the late Johannes Vos, who is credited with introducing Pickwick tea to practically every small village and big city restaurant in Czechoslovakia. The company was founded shortly after the 1948 Communist takeover.

"Every year," said the 29-year-old Vos, "the business has gotten better and this year is no exception."

Vos also represents buyers of Czechoslovak products which are sold in the West to earn hard currencies. He deals, for example, in Czechoslovak seed grains, potato starch, canned tomatoes and canned fruit.

Since the invasion a month ago, the Czechoslovaks have not sold any of these products to Vos, but he explained that this has had nothing to do with the invasion.

These are seasonal products that do not reach the market until after the late summer harvest.

Vos said that though most of his dealings are in hard currencies at western market prices, he sometimes engages in barter transactions for the Czechs.

There may be a demand, for example, for 200,000 packages of Maple Leaf Gum. But if the state purchasing quota has used up its quota of hard currency, it may ask Vos to take payment in an equivalent value of potato starch at western prices. With his sales organization in Holland, the Dutch trader will take on the contract knowing he can later find a market for the potato starch.

Vos makes most of his deals directly with retail enterprises such as the Tuzex chain.

But all the transactions go through one of the state purchasing agencies. For example, anything having to do with textiles goes through Centroteks, anything related to food, cigarettes, tobacco or liquor through Koosloot, and anything related to cosmetics through Chemapol.

The western companies represented by the VOS group thus have a contract with the state agency and not with the individual retail enterprise. No down payments are made, because of Czechoslovakia's high credit rating.

Philadelphia Gives Nixon Ticker Tape Welcome

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There was Pat Nixon in red, white and blue sitting proudly beside her smiling, confident husband — The Republican knight in a dark grey suit who came Friday to conquer Democratic Philadelphia.

And Richard M. Nixon, buoyed by the reception he got, thinks he may have succeeded.

"Marvelous, marvelous, just terrific," was Nixon's reaction. His 30-minute trip was made under a bright, noon-hour sun and a barrage of 10 tons of ticker tape, shredded paper and colored balloons.

"Amazing, simply amazing," said Rep. Richard Schweiker, R-Pa. Schweiker predicted he's going to upset Democratic U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, the incumbent seeking reelection, while Nixon is winning Pennsylvania's 29 electoral votes.

"Things are going very good for both of us," Schweiker told Nixon when the two clasped hands after the GOP presidential nominee flew in from a New York fund-raising party.

"Believe it," replied Nixon, beaming.

"Great, Great."

The former vice president lost Philadelphia in 1960 to Democrat John F. Kennedy by 331,000 votes. Nixon said he's "glad to be back again in this city and we're going to win it this time."

He stopped briefly during his round of airport hellos to chat with Philadelphia's Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo.

"Glad to see you again," Nixon told the commissioner. "I think you guys are the ones who are setting the right standard."

"Great, Great,"

Schweiker, however, hedged a bit by saying he would "continue to run scared because you never count Joe Clark out."

Nixon was met at the airport by a host of Republican officials, led by Lt. Gov. Raymond Broderick.

Gov. Shafer was absent—he was campaigning for Nixon in the west.

Nixon greeted Broderick warmly, saying, "How's my Irish politician?"

"Oh, we're real good, real good," Then Broderick blushed.

You think of law and justice all the time, with no nonsense," Rizzo grinned. "Thank you very much."

All the while, as Nixon pumped hands and oozed happy confident words of November victory, his wife, Pat, stood unflinched by his side. She wore a red jacket over a white yoke-neck blouse, bottomed with a bright blue skirt.

The Schweikers rode in the car behind Nixon's and the congressman's wife Clair said later, "It was the greatest thrill of my life."

Schweiker said of the scene it was symbolic of the GOP trend running all across Pennsylvania, in every county he visits during his campaign for senator.

"Up to a month ago the state was a tossup," Schweiker said. "But since the convention, I am convinced this is going to be a Nixon state. The party is more united before than ever before in the last eight years."

"Of course we could blow it. We could make mistakes. Something could happen abroad. But right now we're in."

Schweiker, however, hedged a bit by saying he would "continue to run scared because you never count Joe Clark out."

Gov. Shafer was absent—he was campaigning for Nixon in the west.

Article Appeals to Soviet Union To Respect Austrian Neutrality

(C) N.Y. Times News Service VIENNA — The organ of the ruling Austrian Peoples Party appealed Friday to the Soviet Union to respect Austria's neutrality for the sake of its own credibility.

The plea by Volksblatt, a newspaper that consistently reflects government views, struck western diplomats by a display of understanding and almost sympathy for Moscow's motivation in invading neighboring Czechoslovakia.

The Volksblatt editorial conceded that the Soviet-led "intervention in the Czechoslovak Socialist Republic was, viewed from Moscow, a defensive act ultimately aimed at 'establishing control' over a link of its defense front that the Kremlin seems to have regarded as weak."

Nothing could be less desirable for the Soviet Union, the editorial went on, than to render the action in Czechoslovakia, "which it obviously considered necessary for its own security," even more problematic by violating Austria's neutrality.

By intruding on Austrian neutrality the Soviet Union would lose any credibility, a risk it could not run at a time when it still was attempting to convene a world conference of communist parties to reassert its guidance of the international communist movement, Volksblatt said.

The editorial was a comment on a special report to Parliament by Federal Chancellor Josef Klaus on Wednesday stressing the government's determination to defend Austria's status of permanent neutrality. He referred to worries among the population that the Soviet

Judge Says Ike Never Called Goldwater 'Nuts'

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge said Friday that if former President Eisenhower ever said Barry Goldwater was "nuts," he was merely making the sort of comment many Americans make about friends and relatives.

"Many, many, many ... Americans," he said, "as a matter of expression, refer to members of their family, whom they revere and love, and acquaintances: 'The guy must be nuts.'"

Judge Harold R. Tyler Jr. offered the observation in denying a motion for a new trial by publisher Ralph Ginzburg, who was convicted of libeling Goldwater during the 1964 presidential campaign.

The pre-election issue of Ginzburg's Fact Magazine contained an article by him entitled "Goldwater, the Man and the Menace," and the result of a survey of psychiatrists saying that "1,189 psychiatrists say Goldwater is psychologically unfit to be president."

Goldwater was awarded $75,000 in punitive damages by a federal court jury last May 25 plus $1 in compensatory damages. Ginzburg has filed a notice of appeal with the U.S. Court of Appeals.

In seeking a new trial, the publisher's lawyers claimed "newly discovered evidence" in a new book, "Eisenhower, the President Nobody Knew." The author, former White House assistant Arthur Larson, quotes Eisenhower as remarking early in 1964, "They guy is nuts."

Judge Tyler, saying such a remark is "a common garden variety thing," also noted that the former president is not a professional psychiatrist.

Conversational Counselling And Compost

By Bernie Wingert, County Agent

I carry in my shirt pocket two little books. One is a date book and the other is a blank pad filled with notes. Without these two books I don't even feel completely dressed. It's a terrible thing to be as dependent upon a couple of books, but without them I'm lost. Sometimes I wake up in the middle of the night and wonder if I wrote a particular note to myself about one thing or another.

The real reason for talking about these books is because sometimes I do forget to write down someone's request and promptly forget all about it. For instance, let's say I'm walking out of the barber shop and someone drives by in his car. He leans out the window and says - "Hey Bernie my grass is dying. Will you stop by and look at it, and tell me what to do?" I'm busy brushing some itchy hair out of my shirt collar and yell back - "Sure, I'll stop around in a couple of days." For some reason or other, maybe it's the itchy hair or maybe it's that I'm late to pick up the youngsters from their swim practice, I simply forget to jot down a note, "Stop and look at George's dying grass." Now here's where the trouble begins and I just plain forget about it forever. George never calls back. He gets mad because I said I'd come out and inspect his dying grass, but never get there. Three weeks later George's grass is entirely dead, and he's not speaking to me.

Now all this grief could have been avoided if George would have just called the office when I didn't show up, and asked the office secretary to remind me that I had said I'd be out but never got there. If you're one of those people who got missed, please don't be angry, just call again and I'll try and get there.

Just looked at a letter on my desk from a firm in Wisconsin that advertises a fabulous (that's what they say) product. It's called LION SCENT DEER REPELLENT, guaranteed to keep deer from damaging gardens or plantations. The letter goes on: Simple procedure - put a few drops of Deer Repellent on a piece of cotton or burlap attached to sticks placed at 100 foot intervals. That's all there is to it. A four oz. bottle costs $3.00 and if you have a lot of deer you can get a full pint for $10.00. The trouble is more people call in asking how to chase away chipmunks than deer. But if you do have a deer problem maybe this deer repellent would solve it. Small nursery stock is often badly damaged and in some areas field crop damage is quite extensive. I just wonder if the stuff would really work.

Father of Quadruplets Loses Faith in Pills

OTTAWA (AP) — Mrs. Victor Millar, 30, gave birth Friday to quadruplets—three boys and a girl.

"That kills my faith in the pill," said her 33-year-old husband when he got the news.

"I think I'll picket the company," he added.

Mrs. Millar was delivered of the babies in seven minutes, Dr. Sydney Kronick, the mother's obstetrician, diagnosed the multiple pregnancy with X-rays Aug. 19, notifying the hospital of the probability of quadruplets.

The Millars have two other children, a girl 6, and a boy, 12.

"They took it very well," said the father while waiting a summons to his wife's bedside.

But when they told him in August of the prospects, "It was a shock, mainly because we had just bought a house and will have to buy a bigger one now."

Millar, a photographer employed by the Post Office Department, said his wife had been taking birth control pills for about a year, when she found she was pregnant but "the doctor said when she started you can't guarantee them."

He said the boys weighed three pounds 10 ounces, three pounds 14 and three pounds nine and the girl two pounds 10.

They were given excellent chances of survival.

Mrs. Millar is one of 12 children and her mother, Mrs. Roger Duboe of Ottawa, said all 12 came along "one at a time."

"I'm in a state of shock," she said when asked how she felt about her daughters' giving birth to quadruplets.

Truck Drivers Found Guilty Of Contempt

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A judge lectured 11 truck drivers for 45 minutes Friday, then found them guilty of contempt of court for allegedly tossing bricks at a convoy of trucks owned by the struck Eazor Express Co.

Judge Arthur Wessel Jr., who previously had said he would give violators 30-day jail terms and $500 fines, ordered the sentences into effect at once.

He said the men could purge themselves of contempt and get out of jail by apologizing, but he refused to allow them to apologize immediately.

Defense lawyer John J. Kirk said he would try to obtain a supersedeas that would set aside Judge Wessel's sentence pending further litigation.

The jurist found the drivers guilty of violating his injunction of three weeks ago that banned picketing within three blocks of the Eazor terminal in Pittsburgh.

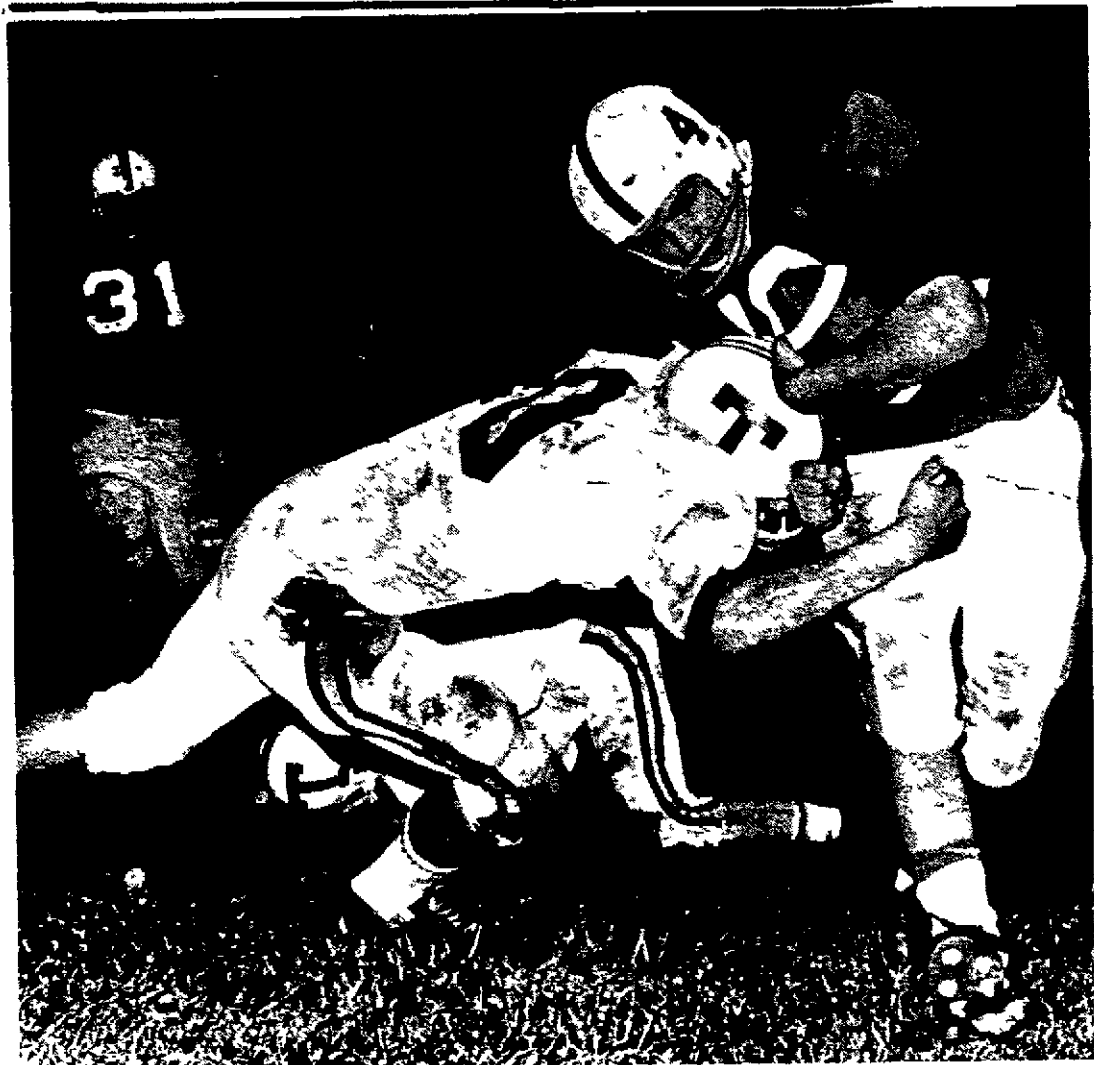

On Sept. 16, a gang of about 200 men gathered near the Eazor terminal and pelted trucks with stones and bricks as they were escorted away from the terminal by police.

The Eazor labor problems began at the firm's Warren, Ohio, terminal and has spread to its other garages. The drivers, members of the Teamsters Union, contend the company fired a man, while Eazor insists that the man quit.

Earlier this week, Eazor announced it is permanently closing its Warren terminal.

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A truck driver, hauling 40,000 pounds of salt in his tractor-trailer, jumped out of the cab just before the rig toppled over the Summit Mountain and burst into flames Friday.

Roger Carlton Pinyan, 29, of Cleveland, Ohio, walked away with only a minor ankle injury, according to officials.

Grimsley Predicts

Notre Dame Should Win; USC, Texas Might Not

Associated Press Sports Writer
Powerful Notre Dame is a touchdown favorite over lean and lightning-quick Oklahoma Saturday in the feature of a full college football program which can put a quick balloon or blast to national title hopes.

Defending champion Southern California and bounce-back Texas are two other aspiring powers who could be blown off the track before they get their ignition started.

Southern Cal, with the great O.J. Simpson well-shod and ready to go, goes against a rugged Minnesota eleven good enough to tie the Purdue and Indiana for the Big Ten crown last year. Texas is host to a fired-up Houston eleven that creamed Tulane last week 54-7.

Texas is a 6-point choice in the night game at Austin.
Keen intersectional rivalries spark the schedule, marked by four games beamed to regional audiences by ABC-TV.
Michigan State, a traditional contender for No. 1 honors before it fell on leaner times last season, is host to Syracuse, one of the top teams in the East, at East Lansing, with a 2 p.m. EDT kickoff. This game will be shown to the Middle West and a large part of the East. The Spartans are a touchdown pick.
Far Western fans will see San Jose and Stanford clash at 1:15 p.m. EDT. Clemson and Wake Forest will be witnessed by the Atlantic Coast and some of the South in a battle at Winston-Salem, N.C., at 1:45 p.m. EDT. Texas Christian and Georgia Tech clash at Atlanta at 1:45 p.m. EDT, with part of the Deep South and Southwest tuned in. Clemson is a 7-point pick, Tech by 3.

Perhaps one of the fiercest games will be played Saturday night at Baton Rouge, La., between Texas A&M, the Cotton Bowl champion rated by some as the No. 1 team in the South, and the always formidable Louisiana State Tigers, a threat in the Southeastern, LSU, as the host team, is a scant three-point favorite.

Late Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Willie Davis' sacrifice fly broke a sixth inning tie and Jim Brewer protected it with a fine relief stint, carrying the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Friday night.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marichal set down Atlanta on five hits for his 26th victory, a personal high, and San Francisco crushed the Braves 8-1 Friday night.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim (Catfish) Hunter survived a bases-loaded jam in the first inning and John Roseboro's homer in the second to pitch Oakland to a 7-1 victory over Minnesota Friday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Northrup hammered a pair of two-run homers and Al Kaline and Jim Price added solo shots as the Detroit Tigers whipped the Washington Senators 6-3 Friday night.

It was the 10th straight victory for the American League champions, matching the longest winning streak in the majors this year and Detroit's 100th of the season.
Northrup's first shot followed a single by Kaline in the sixth and made the score 3-2.
In the eighth, Kaline, who had four hits, lined his 10th of the year, tying the score.

The Beavers were forced to return the ball to Strong Vincent and on the last play of the quarter Rick Brockmyer dashed in from the seven yard marker to tie the score at 6-6.

The second quarter was a scoreless defensive battle. In the second half the tide began to turn as Corry dominated the play but could not score. On the third play of the fourth quarter Taylor smashed over from the one to give Corry the winning margin.

For the rest of the quarter Corry controlled the ball most of the time, running 20 plays to Vincent's eight, but could

Titusville Shellacks Warren 34-0

As Rockets' McNamara Glitters

By DAVID PIRILLO

Mass confusion. Those two words summarized Warren's overall performance in a 34-0 drubbing at the hands of Titusville's Rockets Friday night. Panic arose on the Warren contingent when they lost their veteran quarterback, Ed O'Neill, on the Dragons' first play from scrimmage because of a re-injury to his ailing thigh.

The loss of their field general left them without a leader in the chain of command. Sophomore Craig Young, and then Junior Jeff Fralley tried but failed to ignite the Warren offense as to poor timing and numerous mixups in the backfield ensued following O'Neill's departure.

Gene McNamara, the sterling Rocket quarterback proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that he masterminded the dethroning of the undefeated Dragons. With the heart taken out of Warren's game, McNamara baffled the Dragons no end.

From the opening kickoff to the final buzzer, he mixed his patterns with unflinching success. The visitors just didn't have any idea of what to expect.

McNamara hit on six of 13 passes for 112 yards and all six passes were on touchdown drives. If this wasn't enough, he completed 60 of the 194 yards rushing. In short, it was his game. Even before O'Neill was removed, McNamara had succeeded in engineering a touchdown march of 65 yards with his halfback, John Bennett, finalizing the drive on a six-yard sprint for a 6-0 lead. McNamara booted the PAT, the first of his four.

The thought of being seven points behind and the injury to O'Neill scuttled Warren's complete game plan. As a result, the blocking was off and the tackling wasn't effective.

Titusville knew they held the upper hand and let the Dragons play their cards. The only time the Dragons came within reach came on Warren's last drive in the fourth quarter, which brought the ball to the Titusville 23 for their farthest penetration of the evening.

The offensive game was played mostly on the Dragons' turf. Titusville foiled every Warren attempt to move the ball in the air, and left the ground game as the Dragon's only avenue of attack.

Warren's defense saw most of the game from on the field, and failed to solve McNamara's play pattern. Titusville in turn wore out any spirit the Dragons could muster with its skillful versatility in moving the pigskin.

Titusville started its second drive from inside the Warren 45. A slant pass over the middle to end Bob Putnam dropped the ball on the Dragon 5. Two plays later, McNamara snuck in on a wide sweep around right end. His kick was short, and the Brown and Gold held a 13-0 lead.

The third touchdown came before the end of the first half. Jim Romaniszyn galloped 20 yards around the right end on a reverse to catch the flow of the Warren defenders going the wrong way.

When the Dragons came out in the third quarter, they had to score quickly, and they knew it.

Warren's defense saw most of the game from on the field, and failed to solve McNamara's play pattern. Titusville in turn wore out any spirit the Dragons could muster with its skillful versatility in moving the pigskin.

But it was all over. The biggest gamble came on fourth and two from their own 37. A failure here to gain the first down put the lid on the game for Titusville as Bennett and fullback Craig Strawbridge added the now game-weary Blue and White with repeated blows at the tackle slots.

Bennett carried in the fourth touchdown from eight yards away on an off-tackle slant. The game-ending points came late in the third quarter when a Titusville lineman knocked the ball out of Bill Songer's hands. After a penalty, McNamara dropped back into the pocket and fired a strike to end Ron Stewart for a 30-yard scoring play.

The Dragon's loss put them one-half game back of Titusville in the standings, while the Franklin Knights and Corry Beavers are in third, one full game out. Next week Warren travels to Oil City for their fourth straight Section II

DAUGHERTY PREDICTS

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY

Head Football Coach, Michigan State University
The days of four yards and a cloud of dust are numbered because most college football games of the future will be played on synthetic turf. Football will be even faster than it is today when players are able to get greater traction on such turf.

DUFFY CALLS 'EM!

The speed obtainable on this type of surface was emphasized in the recent final Olympic Trials in California. Several world records were set.

Speed also was the keynote in the exciting 17-17 tie between Tennessee and Georgia last Saturday on the synthetic surface at Neyland Stadium in Knoxville. Action was so fast that linemen often seemed offside. They moved faster than the ball.

My opinion is that within five years most stadiums will have the ruglike surface, for a number of reasons.

Land on most college campuses is at a premium. Holding varsity practice sessions on synthetic turf in the main stadium will enable many schools to free valuable real estate.

Wisconsin, the first Big 10 team to use the synthetic, has converted a couple of practice fields into parking lots. Parking meter revenue will pay for the new stadium surface.

Most schools spend $30,000 a year maintaining sod. On the new stuff, which lasts for years, there is little maintenance.

Another important thing about these new all weather fields is that ankle and knee injuries will be minimized by 80 per cent. Statistics kept on games played in Houston's Astrodome and on a field in Seattle produced this figure. Cleats get caught in ordinary turf when a player makes a quick start or sudden turn.

With college football fans being charged about $6 per seat to attend games in all kinds of weather, the new fields will help give them their money's worth. There is nothing worse than a scoreless tie on a muddy field. Synthetic turf also eliminates mud covered uniforms.

Because we play Wisconsin Oct. 5 in Madison in our first conference game, we worked out last week on an Astroturf practice field at Flint, Mich. Our Spartans wore special shoes with smaller cleats. We wanted our men to gain confidence on such a surface. They loved it.

The new type fields will insure games being played under equitable conditions. Too often in the past the home team let grass grow to slow down a faster team.

Some maintenance men watered their home fields then covered them overnight. These stratagems are not possible with the new turf.

I'll even confess that when we had speedsters like Clint Jones and Gene Washington we cut our grass short. Maybe they didn't need it that way but it did give them a psychological advantage.

Yes, the game is about to change. No longer will a losing coach be able to say "they made their important first down by the width of a blade of grass."

Union City Coaches Want More Money

UNION CITY, Pa. (AP) — With the exception of Head Football Coach Wally Mahle, Union City High School's coaches have sided themselves because of a pay dispute with the school board.

Mahle has been the only coach on duty at practice sessions the past couple of days, although the other coaches have been carrying on with their classroom teaching.

Mahle supervised a scrimmage of the junior high football team Thursday while the cross country squad worked out under a youngster who graduated last year.

"Essentially, they want more pay for coaching," said Dr. David Hallstrom, superintendent of schools. "We expect to resolve the dispute soon."

The school board and the athletic committee are scheduled to discuss the problem at a Tuesday night meeting.

Fish Commission Acts Following Large Kill

HARRISBURG—The Pennsylvania Fish Commission reports that a pipeline break sometime on September 12, near Cherry Tree, Huntingdon County, permitted thousands of gallons of fuel oil to be discharged into Shy Beaver Creek and on into the Juniata River, killing fish and other aquatic life for a distance of at least 18 miles.

Fish Commission investigators report that the fish kill is considered to be the heaviest on record for this section of the Juniata River.

The pipeline is owned by Buckeye Pipeline Company. The extensive fish kill in the Juniata River includes smallmouth bass, walleye, pickerel and other species normally found in this portion of the river.

Robert J. Bielo, executive director of the Commission, has indicated action will be taken for recovery of damages to fish life and possible other prosecution.

Penn State, Navy Clash In Opener

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Color the quarterbacks green but willing and you'll discover the key to the Penn State-Navy game Saturday at Beaver Stadium.

The Nittany Lions 10th ranked in the Associated Press poll, will rely on Chuck Burkhardt, a junior whose experience last year amounted to the equivalent of one game.

Directing the Middle attack will be Mike McNallen, the first sophomore quarterback to open a season for Navy since 1949. "Burkhardt is doing his job," Penn State coach Paterno said, "and he's getting better all the time."

"McNallen," countered Navy mentor Bill Elias, "has proven to us that he can move the ball club. From the first day he stepped on the football field, we knew that he had a lot of promise."

Ironically, both signal callers replace record-shattering quarterbacks at their respective schools—Tom Sherman at Penn State and John Cartwright at Navy.

If Burkhardt becomes adept at throwing and ball handling, he should have few problems. His backfield includes flashy runners in Bob Campbell, and Charlie Pittman, a powerful fullback in Don Abbey and one of the nation's best receivers in tight end Ted Kwalick.

But despite a talented team, Paterno is not optimistic after watching the Nittany Lions practice for the contest, which will be the opener for both schools.

"We can't run two plays in a row without busting one," Paterno said. "Outside of Burkhardt, there isn't another man on offense who's doing well. The defense is better, but sluggish. It's not practicing with intensity, and is making a lot of mistakes."

In addition to McNallen, Elias said he may have five other sophomores on Navy's starting offensive and defensive units. Mike Hecomovich, an offensive guard, Dick Wilkes, a center and Bob Terlecky, a flanker will be the offensive soph starters. Lineback Mike Crimmins and safety Jeff Lammers should crack the starting defensive team.

Penn State, in addition to its 10th ranking nationally, is the defending holder of the Lambert Cup—symbol of Eastern football supremacy.

Navy will be gunning for the same trophy this season, which they hope to start the same way as last year—with a victory (23-22) over Penn State.

HERE'S SEASON SCHEDULE

Tabby Football Kicks Off With 300 Boys Enrolled

Grade school Tabby Football got off to a rousing start in Warren County with four games played on Wednesday and a twice-weekly schedule set for the next five weeks.

Jefferson tripped Home Street 21-7, Pleasant Township won 24-0 over South Street, Market Street edged Lacy 6-0, and North Warren blanked McClintock 8-0 in this week's action.

Over 300 fifth and sixth grade boys from Warren, North Warren and Pleasant Township are participating in the program, which is under the direction of Hal Miller, Recreation Director of the Warren County School District.

Similar loops are being organized throughout the county in the expectation that every school will be involved in the program.

Assisting Miller in the endeavor are coaches Pete Molinaro of North Warren, Joe Tassone of Pleasant Township, Tony Marino for McClintock and St. Joseph's, Bob Ciesek of Home Street, Dick Moore of Jefferson, Robert Mallory of Lacy, George Rosenfelder of Market Street and Jon Carlson of South Street.

Andy Randas is coordinating officials, equipment, supplies and schedules.

Miller emphasizes that, while the league is already in operation, there's still room for any boys who want to participate. "All that's necessary," he states, "is for the boy to contact the coach at his school or the building principal."

The schedule for the remainder of the season calls for games to be played Monday and Tuesday of each week at 6:00 p.m. on Beatty Field. The playing scheme is to play the width of the field, permitting four games to start simultaneously.

The schedule for the remainder of the season is:

SEPT. 23, Monday — Home Street vs. Lacy, Jefferson vs. Market Street, South Street vs. McClintock, North Warren vs. Pleasant Township.

SEPT. 24, Tuesday — McClintock vs. Pleasant Township, North Warren vs. South Street, Home Street vs. Market Street, Lacy vs. Jefferson.

Pitt Meets UCLA Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Pitt Panthers launch what is hoped will be a winning football season after a four-year lapse and UCLA begins its post-Gary Beban year when the two meet Saturday night.

A Memorial Coliseum crowd of 40,000 or more is expected to sit in on the season's opener for both teams. Kickoff time: 11 p.m. EDT.

The Bruins of the Pacific-8 Conference, who stunned the once-mighty Eastern power the past two years, 57-14 and 40-8, are favored to win, primarily because Pitt's squad is heavily stocked with sophomores.

Coach Dave Hart, in his third year at Pitt, probably will start seven sophomores on defense and two on offense.

To UCLA rooters, interest centers on junior quarterback Bill Bolden as he emerges from the shadow of All-American Gary Beban, the hero of the team's success the past three years.

In contrast, Pitt presents its so-called mini-quarterback, Dave Havern—5-9, 155 pounds, a sophomore, who was rated no better than fifth string in spring practice.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of NORMAN CHARLES COBB who "went home" September 18, 1966.

The glory of life is to love, not to be loved, To give, not to get, To serve, not to be served, To be a strong hand in the dark to another in the time of need, To be a cup of strength, to any soul in a crisis of weakness, This is to know the glory of life.

Barnes News

Mrs. William Knickerbocker of Brookston was hostess to members of Sheffield Garden Club Wednesday. Miss Nellie Titus of Barnes presented the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Helen Rought. The subject of the discussion was the use of dried materials. Roll call was answered by naming "your favorite autumn beauty spot". Friends here have received word of the death at WCA Hospital in Jamestown, N. Y. on Sept. 18 of Mrs. Amy Swoap Ohlquist, a former Barnes resident. She was 66. Funeral services will be held from Lind Funeral Home this morning (Saturday) at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Ohlquist is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alfred Smart and Mrs. Mary Nikust, both of Jamestown; two brothers, Lewis Swoap, Youngstown, Ohio, and Asa of Duncan, Okla.

Mrs. Roy Holden spent a week in Bradford, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rae.

WCS members met at the Methodist Church Thursday afternoon. Miss Nellie Titus led in devotions and gave the program. Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. Roy Holden were hostesses.

Ellie Morgan Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio, has arrived in Barnes to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ellie Morgan Sr. He has entered Sheffield High School as a sophomore.

Barnes Methodist Churchmen held their annual Ladies Night, with dinner at the Glen.

The Orpheo Class of the Methodist Church had its first fall meeting Sept. 5 in the church social rooms. Devotions were led by Mrs. Byron Miller. Their project for the day was stapling tickets for the Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival. The Class will have a booth and refreshments at the festival. Their next meeting will be held October 3 at the home of Mrs. Edward Rudolph. Mrs. Kenneth Pierce and the hostess served the refreshments.

The bookmobile will make its next stop at the Methodist Church on Sept. 25 from 4:30 to 5.

Among the 150 who attended the Historical Field trip held at the Hearts Content recreation area last Sunday were Nellie Titus, Mrs. Ruth Titus Miller and Harriet Titus of Barnes. Acting as guides through the Virgin Forest Pine were Sheffield Forest Ranger Norman Koller and forester Lee Sutton, and former Sheffield Ranger Larry Stotz, who now is a very fine writer and columnist.

Mrs. Eugene Leseman represented the Girl Scout Neighborhood Club held in Warren at Girl Scout Headquarters Sept. 11. She has served in Girl Scout Leadership for the past fourteen years, including several years as Chairman. Mrs. Norman Spicer has been assisting in current year organization; both Mrs. Leseman and Mrs. Spicer's terms of office expired on Sept. 1.

The roadways at Buckaloons are no longer dusty. Now they are polkadotted with spring-breaking potholes that can hardly be acceptable to the camper who is towing a high-priced camping trailer. Story and photos on page B-11.

SOCIAL

Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

AN OPEN HOUSE AT THE NEW PARSONAGE of Calvary Baptist Church will be observed tomorrow from 4 to 6 p. m. to which all members of the church, and friends, are invited. Following the open house there will be a social hour of refreshments and fellowship in the church . . . The 7 p. m. service in the sanctuary will be a Dedication Service. The Parsonage Building Committee was headed by Gordon Fralley; members were Dr. John Jacka, Gary Rain, Myron Rydholm and William Wagner. Serving on the decorating committee were Phyllis Rydholm, Janette Wagner and Elaine Backstrom. The two-story, four bedroom home was built by Oberg Brothers of Frewsburg.

AND, YOU MIGHT LIKE TO MARK THE DATE DOWN . . . though it is still quite far away . . . On the evening of Monday, December 2nd, a deliciously aromatic and succulent Spaghetti Dinner will be served for the general public by the Tidoute Music Boosters Club . . . The site of the festive board will be the Tidoute School's cafeteria. Hours of serving haven't been posted yet, nor the price of tickets, but, you'll be hearing more on this later. In the meantime you might, as I said before, like to mark the date on your calendar

A LITTLE COURAGE is what the piece is called, and it's by Richard Cardinal Cushing . . . Thought it might appeal to you, just as it did to me: "A great deal of talent is lost in the world for want of a little courage. Every day sends to their graves obscure men whom timidity prevented from making a first effort; who could have been great, if only they had the courage to begin. The fact is, that to do anything in the world worth doing we must not stand back shivering and thinking of the cold and danger, of the time and sacrifice, but jump in and scramble through as well as we can."

THE VARIETORS CLUB of the YWCA will hear Mrs. Rockwell O'Sheill at its first meeting of the season, Tuesday, September 24th . . . Mrs. O'Sheill, president of Warren Garden Club, will speak on her particular hobby "Dried Pressed Flowers." The Varietors welcome all new members, and, offer a babysitting service at the YWCA at 25 cents per baby, or, pre-school child, during the meetings which are held every fourth Tuesday of the month from 9:30 to 11 a. m.

A REMINDER TO THE CVCC WOMEN'S GOLF ASSOCIATION . . . Reservations should be made no later than this Sunday, the 22nd, for the dinner which will follow a nine-hole Scramble Golf Tournament . . . Dinner will be served at 7 . . . Duplicate Bridge will be played by those who so desire in the evening under the direction of Mrs. J. Theo Valone. Chairmen for the day are: Golf -- Mrs. Donald Lester, Mrs. Howard Johnson; decorations, Mrs. Merle Mitcham; prizes, Mrs. A. Follmer Yerg and Mrs. James Frantz. All CVCC women members are invited to make reservations.

MINIATURES: The Golden Age Society will hold its regular meeting at 1:30 this coming Monday at the YWCA.

Youngsville Elementary PTA meets next Monday, September 23rd, at 8 p. m. in the All-Purpose room of the school.

A family picnic was held at Wilder Field on Sunday, Sept. 15, to honor Donald Dunham of Edmonds, Wash., here visiting his mother, Mrs. Agnes Dunham, of 607 Madison ave., Warren, his brothers, sisters, relatives and friends in the area. Mr. Dunham expects to return to Seattle tomorrow.

Oil Creek Association Meets For Two Days In Oil City

The Baptist Oil Creek Association gathers today and tomorrow in Oil City for a meeting. Highlights of the two-day event will be the appearance of the Rev. Zenas Yegoyhan of Haiti who will join the State Staff for its presentations this afternoon and evening; the Rev. John Jones of Wesleyville who will preach the Annual Sermon tomorrow afternoon; and the Rev. Robert Emmons who will speak to the Youths and Adults tomorrow evening, with Mr. Robert Saxton of Camp Judson, the "interpreter to youth" of the minister's message.

At 1:30 tomorrow afternoon the Youth of the Warren First Baptist Church will leave from the church to attend the association meeting.

There will also be business sessions, good music to enjoy, and the pleasure of getting together with other area Baptists, with Pastor Seeley and his congregation bending every effort to make those attending from outside Oil City welcome.

Meals are being served both today and tomorrow to those who have made reservations beforehand.

Grange News

A special meeting of Warren-Forest Pomona Grange No. 10 was held Saturday at Warren Grange Hall for the purpose of installing officers for 1968-1970. Installation officers were Norris and Neva Wolley and staff from Arkwright Grange, Chautauqua County, N.Y.

The following officers will assume duties for the new term: Master, Ruby Wilcox; overseer, Robert Jameson; lecturer, Jean Hollabaugh; steward, Art Hitchcock; assistant steward, Myron Rapp; chaplain, Anna Perrine; treasurer, Max Dunham; secretary, Ida Grace Larson; gatekeeper, Ralph Rapp. Pomona, Madge Kehm; Ceres, Marjorie Werle; Flora, Margaret Andrews; Lady assistant steward, Marie Belton; executive committee, three years, Nels Nelson.

Mrs. Wilcox appointed the following committees for the next two years: Women's activities, Thelma Theuret; youth, Robert Hollabaugh; legislative, Jessie Carter; publicity, Hope Nelson; membership, Archie Hollabaugh; degree captain; Ruth Jameson.

The above listed officers and committee chairmen are to attend an officers meeting at the Wilcox home on September 30 at 8 p.m. Bring wieners for a wiener roast.

On September 28 the 7th Degree Assn. will meet at Watson Grange. Tureen supper will be at 6:30 p.m. and election of officers will take place.

A special 5th degree will be held October 12 at 8:00 p.m. at Brokenstraw Grange. The old Pomona officers will confer the degree and should be at practice Oct. 5 at 7:30 at Brokenstraw Grange or if unable to attend they should send a substitute.

Anyone interested in taking a bus to Butler to State Grange should contact Fred Simones, 723-3925. If enough are interested, a bus will be chartered.

Chandlers Valley Grange will meet Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. At this time newly-elected officers will be installed. Those elected to office for 1968-69 are as follows: Master, Lavern Decker; Overseer, Bessie Gardner; lecturer, Hope Nelson; steward, Nels Nelson; assistant steward, Denny Durnell; chaplain, Esther Dyer; treasurer, Barzill Dyer; secretary, Thelma Porter; gatekeeper, Richard Huddleson.

Ceres, Lena Black; Pomona, Josephine Nelson; Flora, Mattie Head; lady assistant steward, Sandi Durnell; executive committee 3 years, Sonny Nelson.

Besides election of officers at the last meeting, members voted to entertain Pomona on November 9.

A workbee was held recently at the grange hall, to begin turning the stairway leading to the upstairs. Supervising was Guy Wilcox, of Watson Grange. Dinner and supper were served by the women.

Pleasant Twp. PTA Hears Panel

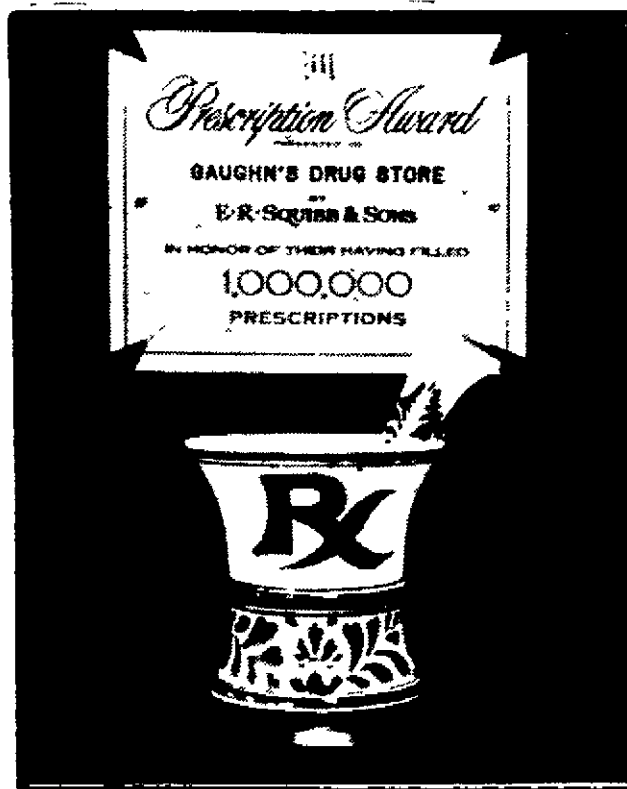

An extremely interesting and informative panel discussion on "Sex Education for Children" provided the program for the first Pleasant Township PTA meeting held Monday, Sept. 16. The panel was comprised of Dr. Guido Boriosi of the Warren State Hospital, the Rev. James McCormick of St. John's Lutheran Church and Mr. Duane Mayes, moderator and father of five. The interest stimulated by the panel was demonstrated by the numerous questions raised by the group.

During the business meeting two motions were passed to appropriate a total of $600.00 for two future projects. First, to purchase a plaque dedicating the playground to Marshall Morrow, the late township supervisor whose ideas and energy were a prime factor in making the playground a reality; second, the remaining amount to provide a wading pool for the Pleasant playground.

Mrs. Charmaine Check's first grade class had the most parents represented. A silver collection was presented to Mrs. Check to purchase additional supplies and games for her room.

Ways and Means chairman Mrs. Robert Rieder announced that the first PTA sponsored skating party will be held October 10 at 4 p.m. Members were also reminded of the annual pie social to be held in late October. Details for this event will be announced later.

The refreshment committee for this meeting were the officers and the members of the executive board. The next meeting will be held November 11 at 8 p.m.

Pastor Returns From Billy Graham School Of Evangelism

The Rev. Alan F. Hearl, pastor of Bethlehem Covenant Church, recently returned from the Billy Graham Crusade School of Evangelism held in Pittsburgh, Pa. in conjunction with the Graham meetings in that city. Over 1200 ministers from many states in the Union were in attendance.

Ministers under 40 were eligible for a scholarship to cover the expenses of the week and the tab was picked up by a businessman from the west coast who made a decision for Christ at one of the Billy Graham Crusades in California. Outstanding Christian spokesmen challenged the assembled clergymen with the church's role in the world today and the vital place of personal sharing and living of one's faith in Jesus Christ.

The Rev. Mr. Hearl was struck especially by the large crowd of teenagers who gathered in Pitt Stadium on Tuesday night, Sept. 3, to hear Mr. Graham speak of six giants faced by young people today: a desire for acceptance, a sense of security, a desire to be loved, sex, vocation and temptation. The 35,000 member crowd, made up mostly of young people under 25, listened intently as he pointed to God's answer to these giants -- a life and faith in Christ. In response to Mr. Graham's appeal for "decisions for Christ" there were 2082 who walked around the football stadium and stood in front of the platform from which he spoke.

A large sign held aloft by some teenagers at the west end of the stadium read "Sack it to us, Uncle Billy." And just before he spoke a jet contrail and then a long cloud formed a cross in the sky.

On Thursday night something interesting happened: a down-pour of rain. Mr. Graham expressed doubt that more than 200 would attend.

It was very exciting to see about 16,000 people standing in the rain to hear the Good News of Jesus Christ and that there is hope in a world that has so much hopelessness and despair.

Some astonishing facts were provided for the ministers by Mr. Gil Stricklin, the coordinator of press and public relations for the Billy Graham Team. Mr. Stricklin compared Mr. Graham's 1952 Crusade in Pittsburgh with the one just held.

Total Attendance: 1st 6 meetings of 1968--146,000; 6 weeks of meetings -- 6 days a week--267,000.

Decisions for Christ:

1968 (1st 6 meetings)--6870; 1952 (6 weeks) -- 5988.

Mr. Graham himself gave the following reasons for the greater response.

1. People are hungrier for the Gospel today. Materialism and secularism has been tried and found fruitless.

2. The TV ministry of the last year has planted many seeds.

3. The preparation and involvement of the churches. 7000 women's prayer meetings -- women gathered to pray-- "and that's a lot of women talking to God."

Pastor Hearl said it was an outstandingly challenging week, and, "God is alive and He cares about us. He proved it when He sent His Son into the world to die in our place for sins and crimes we have committed. It is great to see people who are living proof that Jesus Christ is the life and directing the life is God's answer to man's problems and needs."

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our wonderful young delivery boy lies unconscious in a hospital at this very moment, hovering between life and death. A truck driver did not see him on his bicycle, even though the bike had a small light on the rear fender.

Why doesn't the National Safety Council put the pressure on the manufacturers and make it mandatory that they use fluorescent paint, rule out black and gray and include a safety helmet with each bicycle for a minimal charge?

Every person who reads your column knows of at least one child who was critically injured or killed on a bike. That child might have lived if these few simple regulations had been in force. Please print this plea. Thanks, Ann. — K.E.B. OF PORTSMOUTH

DEAR K.E.B.: I await word from either the National Safety Council or the manufacturers of bicycles. Your suggestions make a great deal of sense to me. Thank you for them.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I feel like a fool writing to you but I do need help with a problem and I hate to snitch on a friend. So ... if you please, Ann.

A gentleman who takes me out socially is too vain to wear glasses although he is past 50 and, heaven knows, perfect vision at his age would be too much to hope for. He is forever borrowing my specs to read menus, theater programs, etc. I wouldn't mind except his face is larger than mine and he bends my glasses out of shape.

I am reasonably certain he has his own specs because he MUST read newspapers and magazines and a book now and then. But apparently he uses his own glasses in private. When in public, he prefers to bend mine.

Is there a solution -- something other than a direct assault on his vanity? — GLASS CURTAINS

DEAR GLASS: Leave your glasses at home and carry a lorgnette -- an inexpensive one with magnifying glasses attached to a stick. They are strictly for ladies. When the gent asks for your glasses, hand him the lorgnette. After a time or two I'll bet he'll bring his own glasses.

Sheffield Church Centennial

It was in 1868 that the first Methodist Church was erected in Sheffield. In 1877 the building was completely destroyed by fire, and finally in 1882 the church replacing it was dedicated. Though three additions have been made to the building in ensuing years it is in this Church that the Centennial Observance will be held on Sunday, September 29.

The Church School session will be shortened--meeting from 9:45 to 10:15--and the Morning Worship Service will begin at 10:30. The Pastor, Rev. Jack P. Boyd, will be in charge of the service with our District Superintendent, Dr. F. W. Hunt also participating. Bishop Roy C. Nichols, Resident Bishop of the Pittsburgh Area of the United Methodist Church will be the guest preacher.

Bishop Nichols, elected to the episcopacy at the Jurisdictional Conference in July, is recognized for his able pastoral leadership and as an articulate champion for social justice. The newly assigned Bishop was an elected member of the Berkeley (Calif.) Board of Education from 1961 until he came east in 1964 to assume the pastorate of the 3,600 member Salem Methodist Church in New York City.

The Bishop was widely known as one of the leading pastors in Harlem, where he became identified with and deeply involved in ghetto work, putting into action his conviction that the primary task of the church is to reach people where they are, rather than wait for them to come to the church.

It is with great joy that we welcome our Bishop and his fine lady to Sheffield, and are thrilled that he will be bringing the Centennial Message at the 10:30 service. A very cordial invitation is extended to everyone to share this service with us.

The afternoon service, beginning at 2:00, will be presided over by the General Chairman of the Centennial, Mr. E. L. Rader. It will be informal in nature: a bit of 'the past', music by the Choraleers of the Kane Area High School, under the direction of Mr. Lorin Wright.

The Rev. J. H. Parsons will be bringing the afternoon message, as the only living past-preacher, having served the charge on a full time basis.

The Historical Committee, with Miss Retta Pinney, as chairlady, will have a "Gallery of Memories" display in the Junior Room depicting a 'bit of history' of the Church.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A relative came to visit several months ago. The length of his stay disqualifies him as a guest. He is now a nuisance.

The leech does not contribute anything to this household except conversation which is not needed since there are already plenty of good talkers around here. He has a hearty appetite and sleeps like a log (until noon) -- never thinking to pick up after himself or make his own bed.

Every day he tells us how much he loves California and says it is fun, fun, fun. Of course it is when you don't have to pay for anything and don't have to work.

How can I tell him in a tactful way to leave? — TONGUE-TIED TESSIE

DEAR T.T.T.: Untie your tongue and don't concern yourself with tact. It would be wasted on this character. If you people who write to me about free-loading relatives would be half as frank with them as you are with me, you wouldn't have the problem long.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage -- What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

By Howard Jarvis

Autumn, like every season, signals a change in fashions. Now that the leaves are turning and there's a hint of frost in the air, much wardrobe attention warmly turns to thoughts of sweaters ... so much in fashion now for the young -- and the young in heart.

Most sweater collections this year will contain one or more woven of the following: orlon, nylon, wool, wool-and-fur blends, mohair, and cherished cashmere. Each of these take special cleaning and blocking methods.

When the sweater is thoroughly clean, great pains must be taken to "block" it to exact measurements to insure its original effortless fit ... and give you that meticulously groomed casual air. Clean sweaters look better ... wear longer!

Service! Reliability! Value! These are the cornerstones of our business. You can bring us your most treasured cashmere sweaters, your finest garments, all your cleaning with the comfortable assurance that they are in reliable hands.

Rabbi Relates Tradition Behind Jewish New Year

Dr. Kurt L. Metzger, rabbi of Temple Beth-El, Bradford, issues the following statement at the occasion of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year;

As the sun sets Sunday evening, September 22, Jews all over the world gather to observe the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, one of the most ancient and sacred days in the history of the Jewish people. The injunction for the observance of the holiday can be found in the Book of Leviticus of the Bible, chapter 23. According to the Hebrew calendar, it will be the year 5729.

The Jewish New Year is markedly different in character from the joyous, exuberant celebrations of other peoples. It is a profoundly serious occasion during which Jews gather for prayer, to examine their acts, their relationship to God and to each other, to remember the past and dedicate themselves to a better way of life in the future. It is the first of the great "Days of Awe", a ten-day period culminating in the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur.

According to Hebrew tradition, during this ten-day period man's fate is written down on Rosh Hashanah and sealed at last on the final, tenth day of Yom Kippur. The Rosh Hashanah liturgy centers around prayer and self-examination, but reaches an extraordinarily dramatic climax when the shofar (a hollow ram's horn, one of the oldest musical instruments known to man) is blown. The Book of Leviticus refers to the Sound of the Shofar as a "blast of the horn, a holy convocation." The sound is piercing and powerful; over the centuries it has symbolized many things to Jews ancient and modern: a call to battle, the breaking with the old year and the past through repentance and forgiveness, a plea to God that He remember man, and an alarm to rouse man from his moral indolence to an awareness of his responsibilities toward God and his fellow man.

Though the Holy Day is a solemn, introspective one, it is colored by an underlying joyousness in its traditional prayers and poetry which have been incorporated into the worship. The wish for a "sweet" year of happiness and fulfillment is symbolically expressed at the meal on the eve of this Holy Day: faculties dip a piece of apple into a bowl of honey in the hope that "sweetness" will flavor the coming year.

County WCTU Convention In Youngsville, 26th

The Women's Christian Temperance Union annual convention for Warren Co. will be held in the First United Methodist Church, Youngsville, on September 26 at 9:30 in the morning. The main speaker for the afternoon session will be the State W.C.T.U. president, Mrs. E. L. Mason.

Local clergy participating in the sessions will be the Rev. George O. Pearce, the Rev. Robert Williams, the Rev. Lyndon Knappenberger and the Rev. Spurgeon Witherow.

A tureen luncheon with coffee and dishes provided by the host group will be served at noon.

The community is cordially invited to participate in the day's program.

HOT CHEESE HOAGY

Combine 1 can condensed Cheddar cheese soup, 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder, and 1/8 teaspoon oregano. On each of 4 toasted French rolls, arrange 2 slices each salami and thinly sliced onion. Spread soup mixture evenly over surfaces covering edges. Broil about 4 inches from heat about 8 minutes. Garnish with green pepper strips.

Happenings Years Ago

The 17th annual community fair in Sugar Grove opened with the Holstein Show, sponsored by the Warren County Holstein Club, as the principal attraction.

With the public cordially invited and an unusually interesting program of speeches and entertainment arranged, a record crowd is anticipated at the Democratic rally to be held at Marconi Outing Club on the Warren Kinzua road.

1958

According to word received from the Agricultural Extension office, John Carmody Jr., RD Clarendon, was one of 12 4-H members in the state to receive a conservation award from the Pennsylvania State Game Commission for outstanding achievement in wild life club work.

An early October starting date is contemplated by the highway department for the $900,000 bypass of Russell on Route 62 above North Warren.

WAKE-UP BROTH

Combine 1 can condensed beef broth, 1 1/2 cups "V-8" juice, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, and 1/8 teaspoon basil. Simmer 2 minutes. Serves 2 or 3.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Our home is like most of those being built nowadays... very small dining room, fairly sized living room, large attractive family room, etc.

We have often been frustrated by the small dining room when we had dinner parties. And because we use the family room instead of the living room as the center of family and social activities, we decided to reverse our setup!

We simply converted the living room into a large dining room. Now, instead of guests entering the front door and seeing a living room off the hallway, they see a very nice formal dining room. One that allows us to enjoy the fireplace and spread our elbows while eating, making it possible to entertain a larger number of people.

The former dining room makes a cozy little sitting room off the kitchen.

Though a number of our neighbors in similar houses were aghast at first when we changed the standard plan, we have found the change an excellent one for our purposes.

Bob Coleman

Hop to it, folks, if you're unhappy with the arrangement in your home. If you don't like it you can always put it back.

It's so easy for us to get in a rut. Why not try something a bit different and put a little spice in our lives, eh?

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I needed half a banana this morning but hated to cut a large one in half because I knew the unused cut end would turn dark.

Inspiration! I cut it and coated the exposed end with a film of soft margarine. It sure worked. Didn't turn dark at all.

Mrs. Geo. H. Handwork

Plastic wrap works, too!

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Stripping the insulation from the end of a ribbon type TV antenna wire had always been a problem until an auto mechanic gave me this tip:

Hold a lighted match to the wire! The insulation will melt off and leave the wires free and clean for attaching to the antenna or the TV.

Just watch that melting insulation—it's hot!

Mary Wood

DEAR HELOISE:

Mornings when I get up feeling lazy and would rather sit down all day in the lounge chair, I just pour myself into my tight capris.

That makes sitting so uncomfortable, that you wouldn't believe the stand-up work I can get done. Like ironing, sweeping or window washing!

The Procrastinator

DEAR HELOISE:

Have you ever had gobs of those wonderful money-saving coupons you took to the supermarket and forgot to use?

Well here is my solution:

I check my shopping list and put a little red mark next to every item that I have a coupon for. As I select each product, I get the right coupon out and immediately stick it to the item with tape.

Much easier on my pocket-book and the checker thinks I am pretty smart, too.

Mrs. Farmer Burns

DEAR HELOISE:

I've found a use for broken, bent or dulled sewing machine needles.

Most of us know we shouldn't sew buttons on too tight or they'll pop off in no time. A too-tight button can also pull threads or tear material which can mean twice the work to repair.

So I slip the head of a sewing machine needle between button and cloth (flat side toward the button) and sew away. The thread is wound around the space between the button and the material the way you ordinarily would to form a shank.

Mary Ann Schilling

DEAR HELOISE:

I covered my basement ceiling with burlap.

It comes in many colors in the basement. They smelled terribly musty.

As luck would have it, I was renewing the supply of moth crystals in a couple of woolen storage boxes and it hit me... why not try a few of those perfumed moth crystals in the RINSE water?

It worked like that fabled charm.

I dried the blankets outside on the line and not a trace of the musty or crystal smells lingered.

Georgianne Fitzgerald

DEAR HELOISE:

Have always loved to knit and crochet. Frequently no one is around to help me roll a hank of wool into a ball.

Being "one-track minded" this is disturbing, as I want to continue my project. Now I've found the answer...

I sit on the floor and put the hank of wool from foot to foot and merrily roll my yarn. (This is also pretty good for the waistline.)

Today I had to braid some twine. Again nobody around. So I tied the twine around my big toe and braided away.

I find my feet are very useful—not to be taken for granted by simply walking.

Betsy

DEAR HELOISE:

Through just plain carelessness, I sprayed my wig (on its foam head block) with wig cleaner, making a bad stain on the foam.

I now have slipped a plastic bag over the block and tied it tightly around the neck with a stout string.

Now I have something to grasp while I'm spraying it and I don't worry about messing up the foam block.

Two Heads

DEAR HELOISE:

I made a good pair of large knitting needles by using the wooden rods from the top of two linen calendars.

By sharpening and smoothing an end of each rod with pumice stone, I now have an excellent pair of workable large needles.

Neddie Gardner

Story Behind the Irvine Bridge

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

When Robert D. Stroup acquired his new home at Irvine some months ago, he found in his garage a number of old books and records. Among them was a minute book of the Brokenstraw Township supervisors which begins with the year 1890, and continues to July 1903.

As he read through the old document, he was most interested to find the records of the decision to build a new iron bridge over the Brokenstraw at Irvine. This bridge will not for long be a part of the regular Route 6, as the new bypass is opened to traffic, and the bridge will be on a side road.

The minutes of a meeting of the supervisors of Brokenstraw Township at the L.O.O.F. Hall on May 26, 1900, disclose that supervisor A. L. Crippen reported the Coover Bridge was in very bad condition, indeed not safe. The other supervisors, John Wilson and J. J. Almendinger, authorized Crippen to go ahead and repair it, so it would be restored to "good so it could be used." He was also instructed to order a bill of lumber from John Moon for the job.

Again on April 14, 1902, supervisors Wilson and Almendinger inspected the Coover Bridge, and decided to have a number of iron piling "drove at the approach at each end of the bridge." But when they met on April 21, no contract was let.

Apparently it was decided to build an entirely new iron bridge. On May 14, 1902, the supervisors of Brokenstraw Township report in their minutes they have contracted an indebtedness to the amount of $3,100 to the Groton Bridge Company for the purpose of constructing an iron bridge over the Brokenstraw Creek at a point where the bridge known as the Coover Bridge crosses the creek.

To finance this project five $500 bonds were issued and one for $600, at 5 per cent interest, each payable respectively January 1, 1904, January 1, 1905, January 1, 1906, January 1, 1907 and January 1, 1908, and the $600 bond January 1, 1909.

On July 13, 1902 the project was confirmed, and an annual tax of $879, being 3 mills upon the last preceding valuation of the taxable property in Brokenstraw Township was assessed, to provide payment of interest and liquidation of the principal sum of the bonds.

The whole matter was formally authorized in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and For the County of Warren, Pennsylvania, at the September Sessions in 1903. The document states that the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the township is $298,000. Valuation in 1962 was $3,364,572, and no doubt today in excess of $3,500,000.

In due time the bridge was built, and has served well over the years—although a trifle narrow for modern day traffic, and many motorists wait for traffic to come through, rather than pass on the bridge.

Consulting with Mrs. Frances Ramsey, archivist for the Warren County Historical Society, she discloses that in 1828 Benjamin Durlin, a well-known mill owner of Pittsfield, built the first bridge over the Conewango Creek in Warren. A full account of the construction is given in the First Commissioner's Book in the hand-writing of John Andrews. It was also recorded in the Warren Gazette.

In the files of the Warren County Historical Society there is much private correspondence showing great agitation for a Brokenstraw bridge, which begins about the year 1816. There is no record of any formal petition being sent to the County Commissioners. At any rate, says Mrs. Ramsey, the people of the Brokenstraw area, fired by the building of the bridge in Warren, decided to erect their own bridge without consulting the Commissioners. Consequently, in 1829, they hired Benjamin Durlin to build a bridge "... at a cost of $450.00 where the Warren and Franklin Road crosses the Brokenstraw Creek."

On the 4th of May, 1829, the citizens wrote to the Commissioners stating the bridge was finished, and asking that inspectors be sent, and that the county pay part of the costs, inasmuch as the bridge was on a main traveled road. The Commissioners acted favorably to both requests, and sent as inspectors: John Camp, Nathan Adsit, James Stewart, Nathan Whitney and Daniel Houghwot.

The bridge was a covered bridge, but it differed from the Conewango bridge in that the roof covered the whole bridge, whereas the roof on the Conewango bridge was on the east side only. "Our knowledge that Brokenstraw Bridge had a roof lies in the Court records found in the Court House basement," says Mrs.

WILL GET A REST

Irvine Bridge across the Brokenstraw has been on the main highway since it was built in 1903, and is a part of Route 6, with heavy traffic day and night. Its load will be far lighter when the Youngsville by-pass carries the main traffic, and the bridge is on an access road to Buckaloons. (Photo by Hoff)

Ramsey. Workmen were sent to repair the roof.

Alas, the bridge had but a short life. The great flood that came in 1835, six years later, damaged it badly. A few years later fire struck it. So, by 1838 no bridge was there.

The Commissioners acted at once. They hired a Mr. Joseph Hibner and a Mr. Bucklin to erect a new one. It was finished that year.

Some trouble came up over payment, and lawyer Bartholomew, acting for a Mr. Kingsley, wrote the Commissioners asking that Hibner and Buckner "... not be paid until Mr. Kingsley was satisfied." In November 1839, the Commissioners served notice on Joseph Hibbard to pay up.

Mrs. Ramsey tells us that Benjamin Durlin, who built the first bridge across the Conewango and the first across the Brokenstraw, was born in New York State about April 8, 1797. He died June 12, 1857 — aged 59 years, 10 months and 4 days, according to his tomb stone in the Old Bill burying ground. His wife, Susannah, was born in Pennsylvania about 1801. Durlin was one of the greater lumbermen and was associated heavily with Isaac Goodwin, who came from Vermont. Mrs. Ramsey's research discloses.

He had some children, but she says it is hard to sort them out.

"We had a James and John Durlin also, both a little younger than Benjamin. For a little while there was a Joseph Durlin who came from Vermont. He evidently left the county. We do know that Goodwin, Brigham, Robinson and Fidelo belonged to Benjamin Durlin. Goodwin was born in 1821."

Among other interesting items in the minutes of the supervisors of Brokenstraw Township found by Bob Stroup is the statement at a meeting held May 4, 1902: "On this day the Supervisors of Brokenstraw Township granted a franchise to the Warren and Sugar Grove Electric Railway in Brokenstraw Township."

On October 25, 1902 it is recorded: "Also the supervisors of Brokenstraw Township gave the Sugar Grove and Youngsville Electric Railway a franchise to construct a track along the public highway from the borough line at Youngsville along Mathews Run Road north to Sugar Grove Township line."

This was the famous railroad from Youngsville to Sugar Grove in the early days of this century which provided vital transportation between these two centers. Eventually, as the New York City elevated railway lines were electrified, their former steam locomotives and cars were sold. One of these trains was brought to Youngsville and ran for some year's once each way daily. Some traditions say it was originally intended to continue the line over the hills from Sugar Grove to Lakewood in New York State, to transfer freight between the Pennsylvania Railroad at Youngsville and the Erie Railroad at Lakewood, but that the locomotive was not powerful enough to make the grades involved.

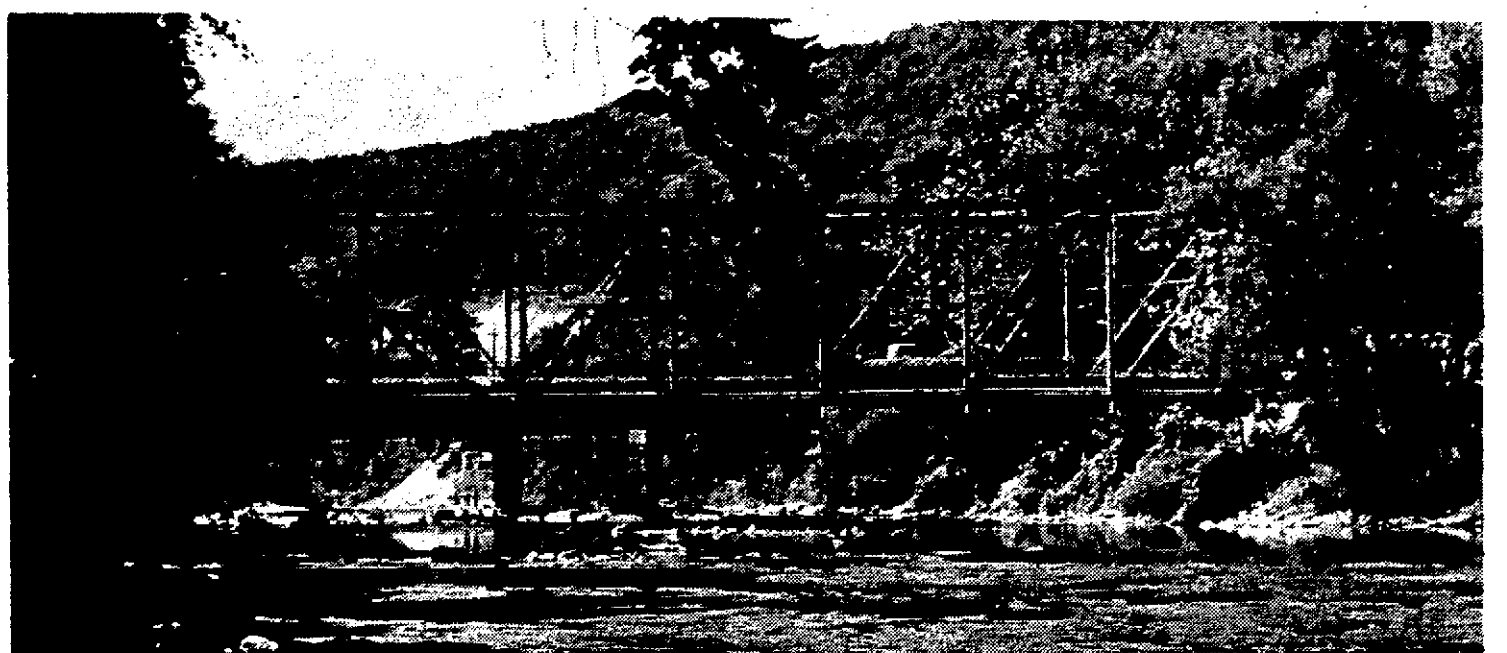

Be that as it may, the increase in motor travel and truck transportation doomed the little railroad. In its last days it ruled a motor bus with flanged wheels on its tracks.

PAINLESS KISS

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A young New Zealander kissed a beautiful woman in the elevator after going to the dentist—and ended up in court on a charge of assaulting a female.

The court suppressed his name, convicted him and discharged him without penalty after his defense counsel explained that he had been "in a state of euphoria" following a massive dose of pain killer at the dentist's.

Said the defense counsel: "She was a woman of considerable pulchritude; in fact she is extremely beautiful."

ART BUCHWALD

The 4-Letter Word

WASHINGTON -- The four-letter word, which in the past could only be seen on the walls of men's washrooms and heard only in GI barracks, is now popping up all over the place. This is causing a great deal of concern amongst philologists who feel that the word is becoming so common that it will soon lose its impact.

Prof. Weymouth Langue, who has made a lifetime study of four-letter words at the University of Kussin, told me that unless the trend is reversed, the four-letter word would soon become as obsolete as the five-letter word Edsel.

Buchwald

"There are only two four-letter words that I am concerned with," said Prof. Langue. "While you still can't print them in your newspaper, I'm sure you know which ones I mean. In the past these words had the most powerful effect on the English language. The reason for it is that they were used sparingly and only under very great provocation."

"But, alas, in the last 10 years, the words are written into every stage play, and they are included in every best-seller. Underground newspapers feature them in headlines, national magazines vie to print them in feature stories on Norman Mailer, and the latest place they've appeared is on the foreheads of students at the anti-war demonstrations in Chicago. There doesn't seem to be any place where one can't hear or read a four-letter word these days."

"And this bothers you?" I asked.

"Only because the words are losing their value. I have always believed that once you had proliferation in the use of these two four-letter words, they would have very little retaliatory effect. For years they have given tremendous release to people under pressure. I doubt if our GIs could have gotten through any of their wars without them. But now, through overuse, there is a great deal of apathy when you hear a four-letter word, and it has as much effect on you as the word 'rain' or 'book.'"

"But according to Mayor Daley, one of the reasons the police might have overreacted in Chicago was because of the four-letter words used against them by the mobs. They must have some emotional impact if they made the police do what they did."

"Yes, this is possibly true, but most riot training these days specifically instructs trainees to ignore obscenity from the crowds. The Chicago police broke their discipline, but we still don't know whether it was the four-letter words or what preceded or came after them that caused the police to get as rough as they did. My opinion is that the words themselves were not responsible, particularly since the police used them also. One four-letter word will always cancel out another unless it is used in a sentence."

"If these two words go out of fashion because of overuse, what other words will replace them?"

"They've already been replaced. You can get a much more emotional response out of someone by saying 'cops' or 'Vietnam' or 'honkey' or 'nig-

Health For All

Lead poisoning continues to present some persistent and vexing problems to the medical profession. While it affects some industrial workers and other adults, its most spectacular and tragic effect is on children living in dilapidated dwellings who ingest lead by eating dried paint peeled from the walls and ceilings of run-down and neglected dwellings, according to the Northwestern Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society.

When detected early, lead poisoning yields readily to treatment. Because the effects are very gradual and cumulative, their presence in children often is not detected for years. Symptoms, which typically become manifest about the age of 12 or a little later, are very severe: they include repeated convulsions, coma, and extreme difficulty in breathing.

Recently, a professional society called Scientists' Institute for Public Information, launched a campaign to enlighten the public on the subject of lead poisoning in children. According to the Institute, from 5 to 10 percent of children between the ages of one and six who live in dilapidated homes in the United States have lead poisoning in some degree. Of those who develop severe symptoms, 25 percent die and 25 percent of the survivors develop mental disorders.

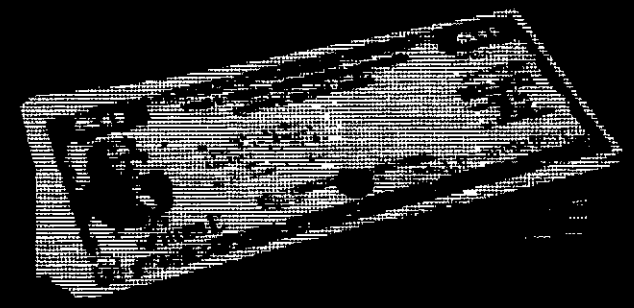

In large urban centers, the great majority of child victims of lead poisoning are usually found among nonwhites. The late Dr. Harold Jacobziner, a noted pediatrician, pointed out in Clinical Pediatrics magazine that the ratio of nonwhite deaths to white from lead poisoning in a recent year was 3½ to 1. "The disease," he commented, is inextricably linked with poor housing. It is a community problem. . . Lead poisoning will be entirely wiped out only when old housing is eliminated and lead-free paint is universally employed."

ger' than you can get out of 'blank' and 'blank.'"

"People even get mad when you say 'students,'" I said. "Right. Obscenity can no longer be counted on as a trigger word, and I think this is blanking up the whole English language."

'BECKET'

Richard Burton portrays the title role in Hal Wallis' production of "Becket," the Saturday, September 21 color feature on "NBC Saturday Night at the Movies" (9-12 mid.), on the NBC Television Network. The story traces the development of a relationship between Becket and King Henry II from their carousing friendship to their quarrelsome association after the King appoints Becket as Archbishop of Canterbury.

FRANKFURT, Ky. (AP) — Paul Camplin, a retired Navy man now working for the state, recalls the time a submarine ran over an auto.

It happened at New London, Conn., when Camplin's sub overshot the landing and rammed into the seawall at the head of the pier.

The bow of the craft skidded across the wall and came to rest squarely on top of a car parked near the landing area.

When the owner appeared, he demanded that all crewmembers sign a statement giving details. The owner explained: "What insurance company would believe me if I didn't have a lot of witnesses reporting that this car was run over by a submarine?"

SATURDAY

ADAM 12 is a new series about two Los Angeles policemen, Senior Officer Peter Malloy and rookie Officer Jim Reed, who ride together in a cruiser car designated as Adam 12. Working together for the first time, they are involved in a high-speed chase, the capture of two robbers and an emergency call to save a suffocating baby in "Log-One" on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 7:30.

THE GHOST AND MRS. MUIR on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 8:30 p.m. is the story of Carolyn Muir, a young widow who lives with her children, Candace and Jonathan, in an old seacoast house that is still occupied by the ghost of its former owner, a 19th century seaman named Captain Gregg. In tonight's premier episode, the cantankerous ghost of Capt. Gregg engineers a series of mysterious happenings to frighten Carolyn Muir and her family out of his house.

SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES is "Becket" starring Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole. This is the film version of Jean Anouilh's prose-poem drama about the relationship between the 12th century pleasure-loving King Henry II of England and his friend, Thomas Becket, whom he later named to the post of Archbishop of Canterbury, on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 9 p.m.

SUNDAY

21ST CENTURY on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 6 p.m. features "Can We Control the Weather" with Walter Cronkite, correspondent.

WONDERFUL WORLD OF COLOR on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 7:30 p.m. presents the first half of "Boomerang, Dog of Many Talents" starring Darren McGavin and Patricia Crowley. An easy-going vagabond interrupts his favorite economic pastime -- selling and re-selling his clever dog, who has been trained to run away from each new owner -- to help a turkey rancher round up her flock.

ED SULLIVAN hosts Theodore Bikel, the McGuire Sisters, Allen and Rossi, Jack Carter, Liza Minnelli and the Fifth Dimension on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 8 p.m.

VLADIMIR HOROWITZ SPECIAL from Carnegie Hall is televised on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 9 p.m. The distinguished concert pianist makes his TV debut in this special recital, playing three pieces by Chopin.

SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIE on Ch. 7 at 9 p.m. is "Zorba the Greek" starring Anthony Quinn and Irene Papas. This 1964 film, winner of three Academy Awards, is the tale of a shy young British writer, who journeys to the island of Crete to take charge of a lignite mine bequeathed him by his Greek father. In the course of his travels he encounters an old Greek ruffian who loves adventure and romance.

PHYLLIS DILLER has as her guests Raymond Burr, Goldie Hawn, Teddy Neeley, the Blossoms, Hugh Hefner and the Playboy Bunnies. In the grand finale, the entire cast salutes Samuel Gompers in a festive production number "The Gompers Stomp", on Chs. 2, 6 and 12 at 10 p.m.

MONDAY

HERE'S LUCY premieres on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 8:30 p.m. Lucy gets her brother-in-law employer to give her son and his musical group the job of playing for a teenagers' birthday party. Lucille Ball stars as Lucy Carter, a Los Angeles widow with a teenage daughter and son, played by her real-life children.

AMERICA on Ch. 4 at 9:30 p.m. with Robert Taylor as guest host takes his family on a special sightseeing tour of the nation's capital in "Star Spangled City -- Part I".

TUESDAY

RED SKELTON, one of the world's great clowns, begins his 18th year on TV with a comedy-and-music hour featuring Vincent Price, Boris Karloff and exciting new songstress Spanky Wilson, as well as a special appearance of Ed Sullivan, who wishes the comedian good luck in the new season, on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 8:30 p.m.

DORIS DAY, one of the greatest box-office names in motion pictures, makes her TV debut in this new comedy series as Doris Martin, a widow with two little sons, Billy and Toby. In the first episode, dinner becomes a comic disaster when the kids take their mother to a restaurant that turns out to be a garish roadhouse with a clientele to match, on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 9:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY

THE GOOD GUYS on Chs. 4, 10 and 35 at 8:30 p.m. are Bob Denver and Herb Edelman, who are a fast-talking cab driver with a head full of get-poor-quick schemes and a gullible buddy, the operator of a diner. Joyce Van Patten stars as the diner owner's wife.

BOB HOPE SPECIAL on Chs. 2, 6, and 12 at 9 p.m. is presented by the Chrysler Corporation. Hope stars as a bachelor Presidential candidate with six would-be First Ladies waiting for his victory in the elections. Among them are Angie Dickinson, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Jill St. John.

THURSDAY

THE UGLIEST GIRL IN TOWN on Ch. 7 at 7:30 p.m. focuses on the hilarious adventures of young American boys and English girls caught up in the swinging mod scene of London. A Hollywood talent agent goes to London to join his English starlet - fiancée and disguises himself as a sensational female mod model.

FRIDAY

FRIDAY NIGHT SPECIAL is "Cat Ballou" with Jane Fonda and Lee Marvin. Catherine Ballou turns into the tigerish, vengeful cat when her father is gunned down by a cold-blooded killer. Together with a band of outlaws, she avenges her father's death, on Ch. 11 at 8 p.m.

Your Horoscope By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)--With discretion and diligence, you can have a profitable day. Examine requirements thoroughly and satisfy them properly. It will pay off.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)--Key to success: Anticipating obstacles in order to dissipate their strength; inventiveness and ease of manner. Plenty of rewards for well directed endeavors.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)--How have questions, problems been answered, handled? If within your power to make an improvement, do not hesitate. Often your keen mind detects the small but vital changes needed.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)--Some hours below par, others brighter. YOU be consistent, smooth-going, roundly determined to take care of your part of day's bargain. Unusual trends possible.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)--Fine solar influences indicate many opportunities for you now, but you may have to ferret out some for yourself. So be observant, ready to act at the right time.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)--Review all matters carefully, so as not to overlook "minor" details. This will be a day when accuracy will be essential. Display your grit in all situations.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)--The chance you get now to achieve something a bit better or different is FOR THIS DAY -- NOT TOMORROW. Don't miss out on opportunities through lethargy or procrastination. You can double your credits.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)--Recognize duties as apart from desires: Tend to each in order. This, plus consistency, can be half the battle. Don't strive for the unreasonable.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)--Jupiter's auspicious aspect gives hope for that which seemed "lost," broader understanding of complicated situations, and another way to get around a knotty problem.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)--A highly stimulating day! Especially favored: Law, surveying, building, land deals, finances generally. Stress your sense of values and aim only for the worthwhile.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)--Some complexities indicated. However, your ability to cooperate in "tight" spots and maintain equilibrium through heavy seas will pay off.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)--Your planets in fine configuration. Seek top-flight investments for your money, time and talents. A rewarding day if you play your cards right.

YOU BORN TODAY are intelligent, alert and enthusiastic, with the will to make matters run as you wish; are an entertaining, generous host, capable at organizing, leading or following orders to a "T", and equipped to stand hardships for loved ones, friends. Your independence is really on the surface; deep down you depend on your family ties, good will. You have an outstanding personal magnetism that attracts many advantages. Birthdate of: H. G. Wells, historian, author; Girolomo Savonarola, Italian reformer; Henry Stimson, U.S. statesman.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune)

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

HEART ATTACKS IN WOMEN

Heart attacks before age 60 occur less frequently in women than in men. When they do, high blood pressure, smoking, and too much cholesterol are dominant factors. Diabetes may also play a role. Why is coronary heart disease less common in the fair sex?

We know that female sex hormones keep their cholesterol at a respectable level. As a result, heart attacks or angina pectoris seldom develop until several years after the menopause. From that point on, women are susceptible to the disease, but a decade or more may pass before they catch up with their male counterparts.

Smoking and hypertension may upset the usual course of events. Diabetics, regardless of sex, have higher cholesterol levels. They also have circulatory trouble due to hardening of the arteries. As a result, coronary thrombosis is as common in women as in men with diabetes.

There are other factors, too. Most women lead a less hectic life than their husbands. The housewife gets plenty of exercise keeping up with the children and doing chores. There is, however, no relationship between heart attacks, the menopause and hysterectomy. These are trying experiences for some, but the emotional aspects do not hasten hardening of the coronary arteries. Cholesterol, hypertension and smoking are more hazardous during this phase of life.

Research shows that these risk factors hasten the development of arteriosclerosis in the young, regardless of sex. Most warnings directed against an elevated blood pressure -- cholesterol, smoking, and obesity--are aimed at the under-60-group. In the elderly, these risk factors are not found, suggesting that the individual was spared because he did not smoke heavily and had a normal blood pressure and cholesterol level.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

PERITONITIS DEFINED

S.T. writes: What is peritonitis?

REPLY

Inflammation of the peritoneum, the inner lining of the abdominal cavity. This membrane covers all abdominal organs, including the appendix, gall bladder, stomach, intestines and pelvic structures. Inflammation or rupture of these organs is the most common cause of peritonitis.

COMMUNITY GREETING SERVICE

Buckaloons Area Takes on a 'Bad' Look

By DON NEAL

The many visitors to Buckaloons who have come to the popular camping area on an annual basis since it was first converted from an abandoned farmer's field into a federal recreation area must have had the impression they were witnessing a complete cycle as they pitched their tent or parked their trailer this year. For once again the chesthigh goldenrod and wild-growing elder bushes have been allowed to establish themselves in all but those areas tramped down by the feet of the enthusiastic recreation seekers.

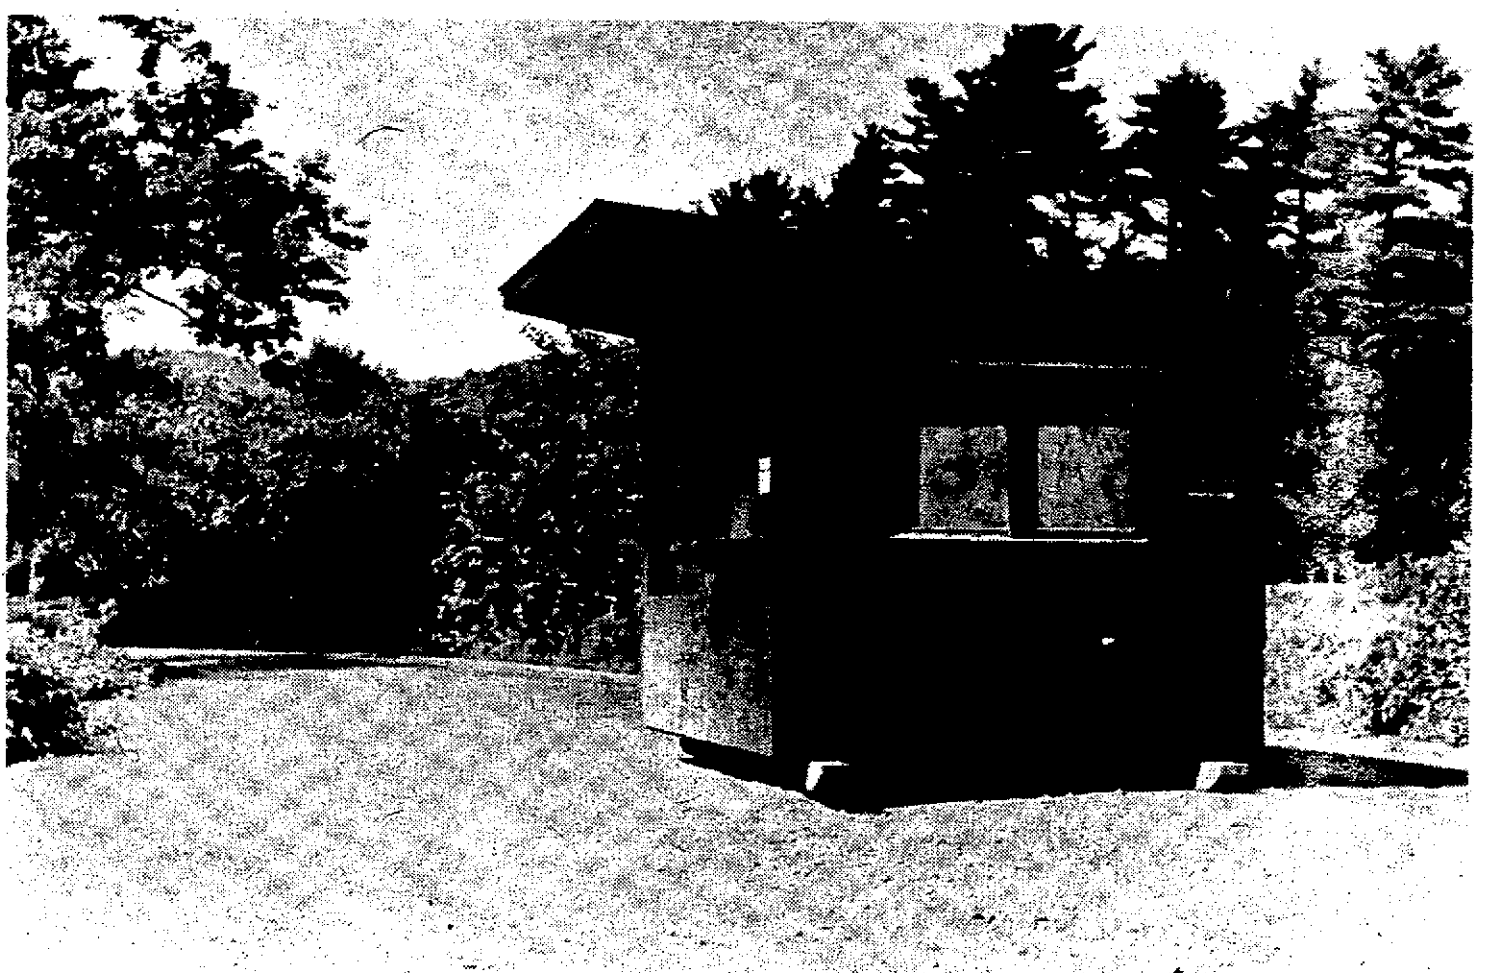

Many of these campers had hailed the progress being made as the original dusty roads were blacktopped, the camping area was moved back from the river bank, and the purchase and operation of a new mowing machine brought an orderly park-like appearance to the area. More than a few of them were willing to state that Buckaloons was one of the finest camping areas they had ever visited.

These were the free-wheeling days when there was a $1 charge per night for camping and picnicking was free to any who cared to enjoy an outdoor meal surrounded by natural beauty.

Then came the Golden Eagle regulations. And it can only be surmised that the workers who had manned the mowing machine and scythes that kept the area so attractive were now needed to operate the collection booth that guarded the entrance. At least the decline in upkeep has been noticeable since the charge regulations were instituted.

Today the visitor to Buckaloons find both entrance and access roads polkadotted with deep potholes, camping and picnic areas unmowed, and the nature paths choked with weed growth. Very little different, in fact, from those bygone days when a creditable federal camping ground was struggling to establish itself on an abandoned farmer's field.

ADDS LITTLE

Contributing very little to the intended esthetic beauty of the Buckaloons area is the collection booth that straddles the entrance road. In the pre-fee days this was located at the roadside and fit in nicely to its surroundings.

WEED-CHOKED

One can only wonder how many city-bred mothers feel it is safe to let their children travel the weed-choked nature paths.

Attitudes & Platitudes

Jerry Marcus

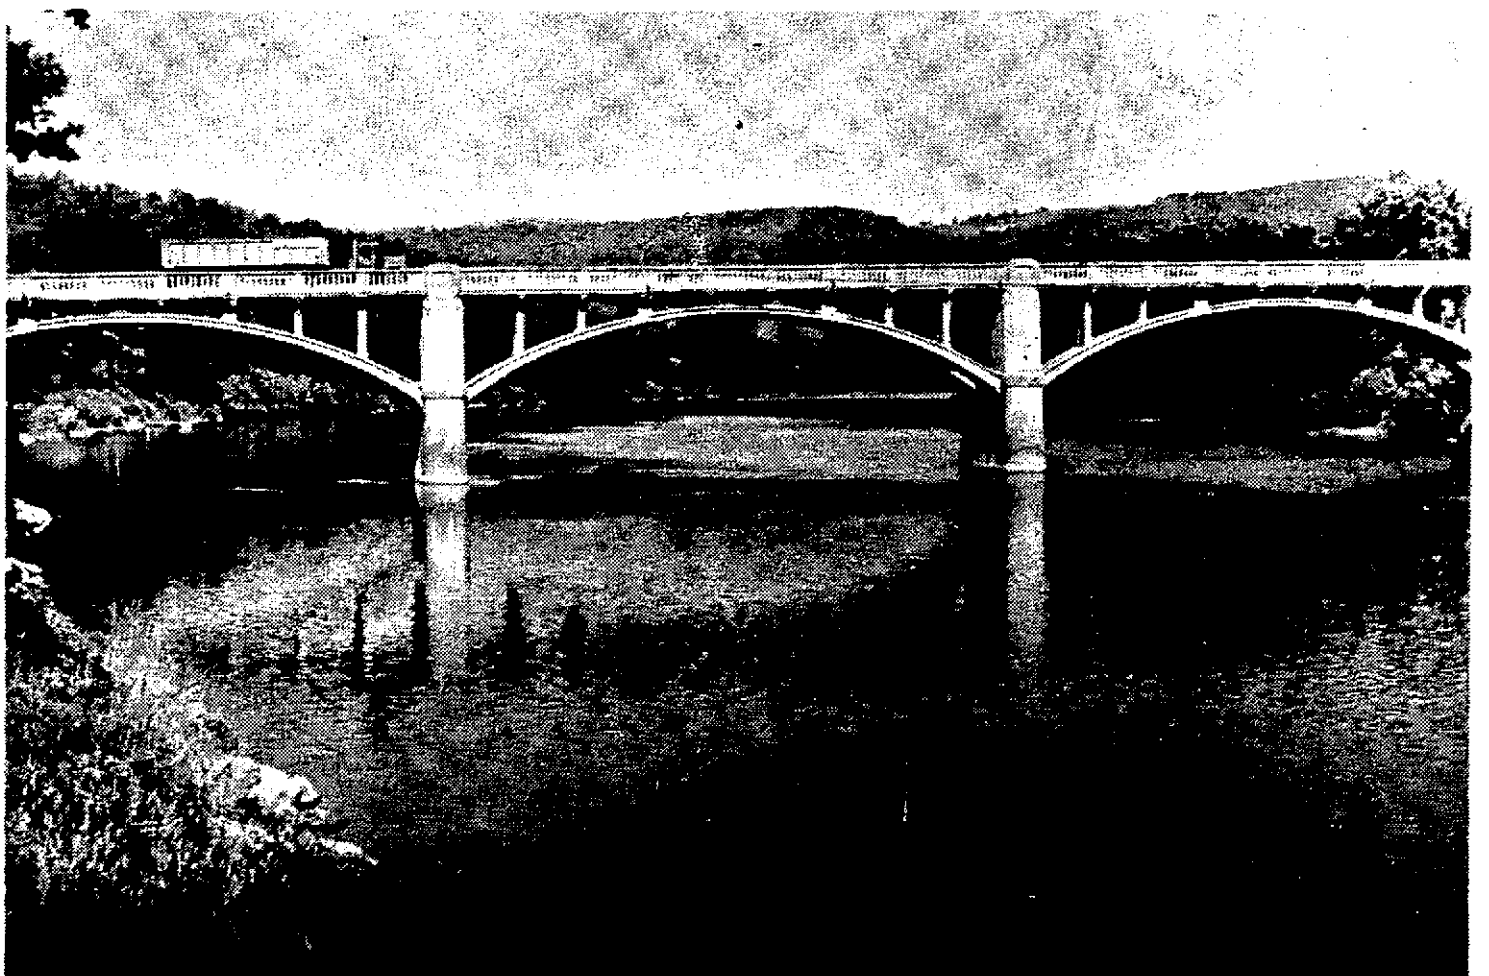

More than 265,000 pedestrians became casualties in 1967.

OVERGROWN

Fighting to maintain their hold on what was once their exclusive domain; goldenrods, elder bushes and grapevines push out over the roadway in many places at Buckaloons.

BEAUTIFUL VIEW REMAINS

But lack of upkeep can never dim the beauty of the Allegheny River as it flows by Buckaloons and in passing furnishes sport for the swimmer, boater and fisherman. So long as it functions in this manner the Buckaloons area will remain a popular camping ground and an asset to the Warren community.

Educational Television Schedule

Selected Viewing

Week of Sept. 14-20

Saturday, 7:30 p. m. — LOCAL ISSUE explores "Integration: Two Towns in Texas," a documentary filmed in the Texas communities of Lamarque and Crosby. Both were among the towns and cities directed to integrate their schools by a federal ruling of 1964. Lamarque has complied with the ruling; Crosby has defied it and vows it will fight the ruling at the risk of losing federal funds and facing charges in federal court.

"I don't suppose they'd mind if we sit by!"

Sunday, 8:30 p. m. — THE COMING SEASON is Penn State Television's look at the new Fall season of programs on its National Educational Television network. In a half-hour format, excerpts of NET Festival, NET Journal and NET Playhouse will be shown. Included are three of NET Journal's top upcoming features, "Appalachia," "American Samoa" and "The Drinking American." Also see scenes from the consumer program "Your Dollar's Worth," "The Film Generation" and NET's science reporting and children's programs.

Monday, 7:30 p. m. — WEATHER AND MAN premieres with nationally-known weather expert Dr. Charles L. Hosler explaining what effects weather and climate have on man and his world. WEATHER AND MAN is being offered for college credit during the Fall term by the Department of Continuing Education of the Pennsylvania State University.

Tuesday, 8 p. m. — JOYCE CHEN COOKS, Penn State Television's new cooking series for fans of Chinese food and those who'd like to prepare oriental meals in the home presents a lesson on how to cook "Beef With Vegetables," using ingredients available from any neighborhood supermarket.

Wednesday, 8:30 p. m. — TV QUARTERBACKS, one of the state's most popular sports programs, premieres for the 1968 football season as Penn State coach Joe Paterno and hosts Jim Tarman, Fran Fisher and Ken Holderman review the season opening game with Navy and look at this week's scouting report for the Kansas State game.

Thursday, 8 p. m. — NET FESTIVAL presents "Carl Sandburg Remembered," a program of tribute to the late American poet who specialized in the life of Abraham Lincoln. Sandburg himself will be heard reading and singing some of his best known works, and the program also will include eulogies to him delivered by President Lyndon Johnson and widely-known men of the arts.

Friday, 10 p. m. — NET PLAYHOUSE brings to the screen another of the popular series "Thirteen Against Fate" by French author Georges Simenon. Tonight's play is "The Friends," a story of two Polish sailors who become so deeply involved with a wealthy French woman and her daughter that they are driven to theft, deceit and murder.

LANDER METHODIST CHURCH

'Commitment to Christ'

By Rev. Marvin Watson, pastor Lander Methodist Church

Text: II Timothy 1:12 "I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded he is able to keep that which I have committed to him against that day."

Title: "Confident Commitment to Christ"

All of us have heard the familiar expression, "Do as I say, and not as I do." In our text we find just the opposite. Paul, the Apostle, strived to set forth a good example for the benefit of young pastors like Timothy who were receiving instructions concerning the nature of the Christian life. Our text denotes that the Christian life entails a confident commitment to Jesus Christ. The Apostle Paul is one of the greatest biblical examples of complete surrender to the will of God. We need not wonder that John Crisostom exclaimed, "Three cubits in stature, Paul touched the sky."

The occasion for the text was to prepare Timothy for some likely trials which were at stake. Timothy was, therefore, encouraged to remain faithful as pastor of the church at Ephesus. Timothy was not the last Christian minister who needed this exhortation. In fact all followers of Christ must fan into flame the gifts which have been entrusted to them through a confident commitment to the cause of Christ.

By virtue of Paul's faith he was able to enjoy assured knowledge which went far beyond the peradventure of doubt. His knowledge actually came through the fruit of experimental faith; furthermore the Apostle's knowledge was the basis for his belief. He previously affirmed that he was not ashamed of the gospel even though it caused him much hardship and suffering. He was not ashamed because he knew his redeemer through faith, love and experience. Paul did not merely know of Jesus, but rather he shared an intimate relationship with his Lord.

Paul's relationship with Christ grew more intimate and, with this intimacy, the Lord was able to prove himself as a friend who sticks closer than a brother. This great man of God actually experienced the saving power of Christ and was persuaded that God's free gift in Christ was his. John Ryland said, "Faith meets God in His word, eye to eye and heart to heart."

Our text suggests to us that Christ is not only able to save the penitent soul, but He is able to sustain by his infinite grace. In the text the word "keep" was borrowed from an old military expression which meant "to guard." It should be a comfort to know that Christians are guarded by the supreme ruler of the universe.

Paul entrusted to the faithful divine guardian his life, his whole treasure, his salvation, his joy and eternal happiness. We must remember that to serve Christ is not simply to give Him a place in our lives. Those who withhold some part of self from Him ultimately find that his path and theirs diverge. We have no right to offer Christ less than the whole of our lives, because there can be no dedication unless it is complete. This is why we have been given the greatest of all commandments which is "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart."

We also find that confident commitment to Christ was on a permanent basis. Paul said he was committed to the Lord "against that day." The word "day" probably has reference to the day when Christ establishes His kingdom on earth. Realizing that Jesus was the author and finisher of our faith, Paul made his decision to follow Christ and persevered to the very end. He wrote to Timothy in this same letter saying, "If we have died with him, we shall also live with him; if we endure, we shall also reign with him." "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing."

Within the Church of our day we should recognize the need for a confident commitment which is even more intense than that of Communism. This is the only way that we can prove to the world that Christ is more than sufficient to meet human needs.

"WE HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING . . ."

RICHARD R. HARATINE

Shafer an Artful Dodger

As Governor, Ray Shafer has become a master of the innocuous statement. It's a technique that avoids controversial news stories and contentious headlines.

As an artful dodger, he is following in the grand tradition of Bill Scranton, and before that, Dave Lawrence. Asked for the time of day, Gov. Lawrence would turn his answer into an up-to-the-minute recital of activities and trends during his administration.

Haratine

Gov. Scranton, denying the kind of career ambitions that impel most of us, turned aside controversy simply by saying he was cashing in when his Governor's term ended, after a mere six years in public office. Confronted the other day with a facetious question about whether he had any plans upon leaving office (in 1971), Shafer rolled his tongue in cheek at this favorite press ploy during the waning term of a lame duck governor.

"No," he said. "He'd been working on our current goals," and he was "very pleased with what has been done." The Governor thereupon launched into an orbit that would have brought waves of understanding approval at the Rotarians' luncheon. He drew only yawns from the press box.

"I'm proud of the fact that we're setting a new record low in unemployment every month this year. I'm proud we have more people employed than at any time in the history of the Commonwealth. I'm proud our personal per capita income has gone up and it's higher than it's ever been. I'm proud that we have the first Neighborhood Assistance act to get at the problems of the cities. I'm proud that we have the first Site Development Act. . . ."

It was beautiful color stuff for the television cameras, but try putting it into a headline.

Shafer's perspicacity is a plus in his line of work.

Predecessors John Fine and George Leader -- like Shafer also up from the political ranks -- took more literal stances, and got rotten eggs for their directness.

When Gov. Fine was burned by the political wizards at a Republican convention almost a generation ago, he became incensed before God, country, and the Television Networks; and a nation gasped.

When George Leader was asked what about using classrooms six days a week and cutting down school vacations to a few weeks or a month in the summer, he allowed as how there was merit to this idea. A thoughtful man, he gave an impressive and reasoned analysis of the economics of Pennsylvania's multi-billion dollar educational plant.

We ought, he said, to get more mileage out of the real estate and out of teaching manpower. Get out the railroad type! Twenty minutes after the words were out of Gov. Leaders mouth, the city editor of the old Sun Telegraph -- who was not an economist, but a news merchandiser in the old Hearst tradition -- had reporters in the school yards of Pittsburgh asking the kids what they thought about that.

By the time Gov. Leader landed at the Pittsburgh airport that afternoon, the paper was able to greet him with the headline: "Kids turn Thumbs Down on Leader's Plan".

How's that for blowing a whole minority bloc in one afternoon?

Anti-Semitism on Rise

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, traveling through Iron Curtain countries, today reports on the new upsurge of anti-Semitism.)

WARSAW--One tragic development accompanying the Czech crisis has been the increase of anti-Semitism in Eastern Europe.

Some of it had been evident in Soviet Russia before, and some of it cropped up last May in Poland, a country where more than two million Jews lost their lives during the days of Hitler.

More recently, anti-Semitism appears to be on the increase in Poland, and has also been a factor in the purges of Czechoslovakia. Chief objects of the Czech purge have been Frantisek Kriegel, president of the National Front, and Otto Sik, deputy prime minister.

Kriegel is a doctor of medicine who fought against Franco in the Spanish Civil War in the 1930s, and later served with Mao Tse-tung in China. He was among those taken to Moscow handcuffed by the Russians, along with Alexander Dubcek, and kept in prison until President Ludvik Svoboda demanded their release. Czech refugees in Vienna told me that Svoboda had actually threatened to commit suicide unless the four Czech leaders were released. His views prevailed.

But, at the end of the talks, the Soviet leaders wanted to keep Kriegel in Moscow to be tried. President Svoboda then refused to go back to Prague unless Kriegel accompanied him. Kriegel is now reported back in Prague, retired to private life and returning to the practice of medicine.

There was very little anti-Semitism in Czechoslovakia in the past, but it has been latent in Poland. It took a new turn when, on May 1, Premier Gomulka, whose wife is Jewish, delivered a severe criticism of Israel.

"We condemn the aggressive and adventurous policy of Israel," he said. "Our stand has given rise to rabid and furious attacks on Poland on the part of international Zionism. The slanderous, ignoble campaign by world Zionism vilifying our country is one of the forms of the struggle of imperialism against socialism and has in view the undermining of the prestige and good name of Peoples' Poland in the world."

"Western Zionist centers -- which did not even raise their fingers when genocidal Hitlerism was busy exterminating the Jews in subjugated Poland and busy punishing with death those Poles who hid the Jews or gave them assistance -- accuse us today of anti-Semitism."

"Official circles in the United States also put their fingers in the dirty, anti-Polish Zion-

Rioters Communists?

The national concern to Understand Chicago has caused all of the usual people to say all of the usual things, with here and there a surprise. Senator Goodell, who is the new Republican senator from New York State, had barely been invested when he began to criticize Spiro Agnew and, to be sure a little less directly, Richard Nixon, for adhering to old positions concerning the conspiracy. Anyone who suggests that the demonstrations in Chicago were Communist-organized or even Communist-organized is the object of general raillery, so much so that it is worthwhile laying down a few distinctions:

Buckley

1) The Communist Party in the United States is not now so subservient to the Moscow line as once it was. However, it is rarely that the two depart, and even when the temptation is great, as when U.S. Communist officials denounced the rape of Czechoslovakia, it usually doesn't take too long before the Party is back in the fold; where it is today, making sick excuses for Moscow's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

2) The CPUSA is active in the United States but it is not in charge of radical activity. Not in the way that it was, for instance, in 1948, when it had full control of the Henry Wallace movement. As much is true elsewhere. The Communist Party in France was neither the instigator of the great May-June riots nor did it exercise final organizational control. It did, however, after a period of indecision, aid the rioters, and seek out and in some areas achieve working control of their activity.

3) It is therefore not safe to assume that any particular demonstration you read about is a body-action caused by the assertion of the central Communist will.

However, 4) call it what you like, there is an effort being made in this country and elsewhere to coordinate radical activities so as to produce a revolutionary situation. And when you view the event in Chicago, say, and the event before that at Columbia, and the workaday situation at Berkeley, you are justified in presuming that there is coordination behind the event, and the burden is on the demonstrators to demonstrate that their thing was spontaneous.

Concerning which presumption, 5) it is relevant to take note of the meetings of the so-called Socialist Scholars at Rutgers University after Labor Day for their fourth annual conference, excellently covered by Mrs. Alice Widener in her bi-weekly USA. The guest of honor was Ernest Mandel of Brussels, editor of a Socialist weekly, and a principal instigator of the riots in France. Mr. Mandel explained that the world was ripe for revolution, and that the key to its effectuation is a) the presentation of impossible standards -- such as are "unacceptable to the capitalist system and cannot be granted within the capitalist system." b) Organization organization organization: "Only because of a lack of revolutionary organization which at the decisive moment could counterpose new centralized workers' power to existing capitalist power" did the revolution fail in France.

Some of the literature distributed at the Rutgers meeting was backed by myriad scholars and organizations, by tough hardline revolutionists of the CPUSA type, and by playboy revolutionists of the Santa Barbara type. The old techniques of infiltration, subversion, intransigence were all invoked, generally and specifically -- the whole bit. Also, the call for secrecy -- "the smaller the number of persons who know about it the better your chance of success," said one lecturer. By all means, don't inform Senator Goodell -- what you're up to.

Is this a "Communist" movement? Ideologically, yes. Is it subservient to the Soviet Union? Yes and no. No in that the Soviet Union does not give it instructions. Yes in that the ideological compatibility of the two is the existentialist reality. "Will you join us," the Young Americans for Freedom asked the Moscow-free revolutionists of the Students for a Democratic Society, "in condemning the anti-democratic crushing of Czechoslovakia by the Soviet Union?" "No," said the students for a democratic society unless the Communists control it, "that is an internal affair."

ist campaign. The U.S. has several million citizens of Polish origin. Poland has about 25,000 to 30,000 citizens of Jewish origin. We propose that the governing circles in the U.S., which accuse Poland of anti-Semitism, examine to see if U.S. citizens of Polish origin have had and have the same possibilities from which benefit Polish citizens of Jewish extraction in Poland."

Gomulka also divided Polish Jews into those loyal to Poland and those who had difficulty making up their minds about loyalty between Zionism and Poland. He advised the latter to go to Israel.

Since that time Poland's Jewish population is reported to have decreased from about 30,000 to about 23,000, though some Jewish Zionists and doctors are reported to have been refused visas. Their skills are needed in Poland.

A number of Jews have also been dropped from government and university circles, including:

Dr. Wilhelm Billig, the government's Plenipotentiary for the Use of Atomic Energy and candidate member of the Central Committee since 1964;

Adam Schaff, director of the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology of the Polish Academy of Sciences--resigned;

Jerzy Toeplitz, rector of the State Academy of Drama and Film in Lodz, the school which set the pace for the renaissance of Polish film makers after 1956;

Stanislaw Neumark, cabinet director of the Ministry of Culture; His son was involved in the student demonstrations at Warsaw University last March;

Adam Conrad-Meller, director of Department II (Communist Asia) in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs;

Marian Wajda, director of the administrative department at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; and Josef Kutin, Vice Minister of Foreign Trade.

When I asked Acting Foreign Minister Jozef Winiewicz about this purge, he replied that many Jews had been dropped from their jobs, but added: "There has been a general shake-up of government positions and a lot of others have been fired too. You don't hear anything about them. But if a Jew is fired it's immediately claimed that it results from his religion."

"Last July the Plenum of the party held a meeting in which there was speech after speech attacking anti-Semitism. Yet there was not one word in your newspapers about this. We don't have the same publicity agents that you do. I sometimes think that you Americans rely too much on press conferences and TV statements to govern not only your political campaigns but everything else. We are not Madison Avenue experts."
